Section 2 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendments, they are simply to strike out in the title.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend title by striking out the words "and to repeal sections 1211 and 1215 and 2805."

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Milliron.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman object to the insertion of the amendments?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

The SPEAKER. You object to the insertion of these amendments?

Mr. REYNOLDS. O, yes.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House go into a committee of a whole for the purpose of considering special amendments to House Bill No. 375, File Folio 9187.

Mr. ALBEE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, to save time I withdraw my objection.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Milliron.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Milliron, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, with pleasure.

Mr. REYNOLDS. How long since your spell of sickness? Mr. Milliron, how long since your return to the House?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, about five or six weeks.

Mr. REYNOLDS. How soon after you returned to the House was this bill recalled from the Governor?

Mr. MILLIRON. The bill was never recalled from the Governor.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Well, how long till you got back to the House?

Mr. MILLIRON. You mean previous to my sickness or afterwards?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Afterwards.

Mr. MILLIRON. It was recalled during my sickness.

Mr. REYNOLDS. No, but after your sickness, and after the bill was recalled how long is it since it has been on the calendar here?

Mr. MILLIRON. It has been on the calendar for four or five weeks.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, you remember last week that you yourself called upon this House under circumstances similar to this and then it was decided by this House that owing to the concluding hours of the session about to arrive, that it would be inopportune to place any bill on special order or call up any bill especially. Now while I sympathize with the gentleman, Mr. Milliron, and while I am in favor of his bill, Mr. Speaker, very much in favor of his bill, because I think, and I know it is a meritorious measure, nevertheless if we recede now from the position that we took last week, it is opening the door for other members to come and ask for their measure to receive special consideration. Yes, it is so. It is so, because every man has the right that Mr. Milliron has, and every man will think that his measure is just as important as Mr. Milliron may consider his measure, and therefore while I have no objection to this measure being considered, Mr. Speaker, I say that you must make a hard and fast rule now, even though you consider this bill. Understand I am not objecting to this bill, not at all, but if you do this, if you now vote on this bill, then Mr. Speaker, prior to voting on it, I think we should make some decision or make some rule that no other bill shall be called up out of order. Now that is my only objection.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. Speaker, yesterday afternoon one of the members from Philadelphia asked the members of this House to recede from their action of last week, and extending the courtesy to one of the Philadelphia members to have a very important bill considered out of order. The House granted that concession, and I understand that there is another very important bill in which Philadelphia is interested and on which they will ask the same concession. I want to ask Mr. Reynolds, that he do not press that proposition at this time.

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker, I hope my good friend from Philadelphia will not be too technical in opposition to the application made by the gentleman from Armstrong. There is no rule so hard and fast but that has its legitimate exceptions. It does seem to me that the application made by the gentleman from Armstrong is a very meritorious one and ought to be agreed to by this House. I hope my good friend from Philadelphia will not press his objection.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to explain this: There can be no objection on the part of the House now to the consideration of House Bill No. 375. That has already been passed. The bill now is about to be placed upon final passage and voted upon by a roll call. The remarks as to future bills will be in order after this roll has been called.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

This bill simply changes a route in the Sproul map so as to avoid a very severe hill or grade, and is recommended by the Highway Department, is wanted by the commissioners of our county and by all the residents of the community through which this road passes. Any other bill of mine will take its course, but I would thank the House if it will extend this courtesy on this bill.

Pending any trial by jury and the final judgment thereon

MOTION TO MAKE HOUSE BILL NO. 1421 A SPECIAL ORDER.

Mr. BEYER offered a motion, which was twice read as follows:

Moved by Mr. Beyer, seconded by Mr. Baker, that House Bill No. 1421, File Folio 9521, entitled

An Act providing that all the powers and duties now vested by law in the select and common councils of cities of the first class shall be completely vested in a single body called the city council and fixing the qualifications time of election salary and term of office of the members thereof; providing for the apportionment of cities of the first class into eight councilmanic districts; providing that the mayor should cast a deciding vote in case of a tie vote in the city council; providing for non-partisan nominations and elections for members of the City council in cities of the first class, abolishing certain existing methods of nominations in such cases and the use of party or political names or appellations at elections with respect to said offices, imposing certain duties upon the County commissioners and election officers and clerks; and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof and the punishment of certain offenses. on page 57 of to-day's calendar, be made a special order of business for to-morrow morning, June 21, 1917, at 11.30 o'clock A. M.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, as a matter of common justice to a large number of business organizations and civic associations for the City of Philadelphia who have had this subject of a short council under consideration for a long time and who have expended considerable money in having bills prepared in connection with this bill concerning city legislation, I would ask as a matter of fairness to those people in Philadelphia that this bill be allowed to be made a special order of business for to-morrow morning at 11.30 o'clock. The question as to whether you care to vote for or against the bill is an entirely different proposition. Through no fault of mine as sponsor for this bill it lingered for many weeks in the committee from which it came and the gentleman will recall some weeks ago the trouble we had—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Glass, will state his point of order.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that this motion is out of order because no special order for any bill can be fixed until the bill is called up. The bill is not up before the House at the present time.

The SPEAKER. The Chair decides that the point of order is not well taken.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I want to submit for your information a list of the various organizations in Philadelphia that have had this matter under their charge and who are asking for some consideration of this bill, entirely apart from what your decision may be:

Allied Business Men's Association; Bureau of Municipal Research; Business Men's and Taxpayers' Association of Frankford; Bucknell Alumni Club; Civic Club; Consumers' League; Cedar Park Men's League and Imp. Association; Chestnut Street Business Men's Association; College Club; City Club; Civil Service Reform Association; Committee of seventy; Committee of Employees to Advocate the Development of Philadelphia Navy Yard; East Central Business Men's Association; East Germantown Improvement Association; Elmwood Avenue Improvement Association; Emerson Club; Equal Franchise Society; Exhibitors' League of Philadelphia; Fairmount Business Men's Association; Fernwood, Yeadon and East Lansdowne Business Men's Club; Fifty-second and Market Streets Business Men's Association; Market Street Merchants' Association; Fifty-Seventh Street Improvement Association; Grocers' and Improvement Exchange of Philadelphia; George's Hill Improvement Association; Germantown and Chestnut Hill Imp. Association; Girard Improvement Association.

I therefore ask you, gentlemen, in common justice to these people, that this motion to make this bill a special order for to-morrow morning at 11.30 o'clock may prevail.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I don't see where this bill should take precedence over any other bill on the calendar. My friend has had this bill in his committee for several months—

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia before he goes any farther.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McNICHOL. When I am through, Mr. Speaker; not at the present time.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, declines to be interrogated at this time.

Mr. McNICHOL. Now, gentlemen, you all have bills on this calendar and you are all interested in the passage of those bills. Those bills that are on the calendar ahead of the one in question are just as important to your locality as this bill is to Mr. Beyer and the list of associations whose names he has read off. If this bill is made a special order for to-morrow morning it means the consumption of the entire session in a discussion relative to its merits and demerits, emanating from the Philadelphia delegation that you men are all tired of. We have taken up too much of your time this session in our squabbles within our delegation and I am asking you men not to allow this bill to have precedence and to vote this motion down.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to correct a statement made by the gentleman that this bill has been in my committee. It is not correct. This bill emanates from the Committee on Municipal Corporations. I have had nothing whatever to do with the bill except as a member of that committee. I want to submit whether or not my friend from Philadelphia wants to go on record as denying the people from his own city an opportunity to have a fair hearing on the bill. Well and good; let him do so.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol appreciates the risk that he runs and is willing to abide by the consequences thereof. If this bill was not in Mr. Beyer's committee, Mr. Beyer was the sponsor for it, and Mr. Beyer knew the location of the bill and the committee in which it was and neglected until this late day in the session to ask action on it, and I do not see how he has advanced his interest or cause by this negligence. I ask the House to vote this motion down.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I hope you will hold to the rule that we have adopted this last week not to take any bills up out of order. Every man in this House now who has a bill on the calendar considers it one of the most important bills in the House. We have refused Labor to take up the Workmen's Compensation Act and hundreds and thousands of people in the State of Pennsylvania are interested in it; Labor is interested in that particular bill. We have refused the corporations to take up the Full Crew Act. Those corporations are as much interested and more interested in the Full Crew Bill than we are in Philadelphia in regard to this factional councilmanic bill and I only hope that we adhere to the rule and have no special orders made but go along with the bills as they are on the calendar to-night in order that our bills go down, if they do go down, in a legal and in a fair way; but don't let us occupy to-morrow, as our good friend from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, has said, in taking up the same old question which has occupied the House for weeks—the Philadelphia politics. Let us stop it to-night and proceed with the bills in their regular order.

Mr. BEYER. In answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn, I want to say to the sponsors who may be anxious to advance their bills that where reasons are given such as I have given to you I shall be glad to aid in advancing your bills upon the calendar. I want to say to those who may be interested in the Full Crew proposition that I haven't any jollies to hand out, but will probably do my part when this bill comes up without making any deals with any members of the House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Beyer and Mr. Baker.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the roll be verified.

The roll was verified as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

REQUEST TO CALL UP BILL.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, this afternoon when the House so kindly favored me by allowing me to call up a bill there was another bill, a companion bill to the one I called up, which I failed to include with that one at the time and which I had a perfect right to do. The bill to which I refer is on page 30 of to-day's calendar, House Bill No. 411, File Folio 8251. As the members of the House were kind enough to allow this one bill to go through this afternoon and as this is a companion bill to the one I introduced and that then passed I would ask the indulgence of the members of the House to pass this bill at this time.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Heffernan, asks unanimous consent to call up House Bill No. 411 out of turn at this time.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I would like permission of the Chair to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia. I would like to ask if House Bill No. 411 has anything to do especially with Philadelphia?

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as I introduced this bill by request and as it has the full support of all the members of the House from Philadelphia, I would ask at this time, as I am not an attorney at law, that Representative Herman Hecht answer the question of Mr. Walter.

The SPEAKER. The bill is not before the House and cannot be discussed at this time.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULES.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move the suspension of the Rules of the House for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 411 at this time.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The yeas appear to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, 43 gentlemen having voted in the affirmative and 62 in the negative, the question was determined in the negative, and

The motion was not agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

The SPEAKER. The Chair's attention is called to the fact that House Bill No. 1481 on page 56 of to-day's calendar is an appropriation bill. If there is no objection the House will proceed to the consideration of this bill at this time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1481, entitled

An Act making an appropriation to the supervisors of Howe Township Forest County to reimburse said township for moneys expended in the repair of a section of State highway route number two hundred and fifty-three.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON SENATE BILL NO. 918.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment to this bill at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend title, page 3, line 16, by inserting after "way to" the following: "any State property."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered. That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

REQUEST TO CALL UP BILL.

Mr. RICH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent of the House to call up out of turn at this time House Bill No. 1650 from page 33 of to-day's calendar. I would just like to make a statement in regard to this bill. It is a revenue raiser, in this way: It is a bill from the Road Department which is asking for the passage of the bill to enable them to change road No. 105. The waters of the Susquehanna River have washed this road out and destroyed it in many sections and they want to change the road so that they can save a hundred thousand dollars in the construction of it. This is an important bill and the present condition of the road is very dangerous. Several people have gone over the banks with automobiles, one this week, on Monday went over and killed a person. It is important that the road be repaired and the Road Department desires that this bill be passed to change the road so as to cheapen the cost of construction.

The SPEAKER. What county, or what part of the State is it in?

Mr. RICH. Mr. Speaker, it is in Clinton County beyond Lock Haven.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, this bill is on page 33 of to-day's calendar and its number is 51. My understanding is that it will be reached to-morrow and for that reason I object to its present consideration.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1866 (Senate Bill No. 834), as follows

An Act making it a misdemeanor for a parent wilfully to neglect to support a child born out of lawful wedlock whether such child shall have been begotten or shall have been born within or without this Commonwealth providing punishment therefor and empowering the court to make an order for support and to enforce the same And making it a misdemeanor to make false declarations as to who is the parent of the child and providing punishment therefor

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That any parent who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to contribute reasonably to the support and maintenance of a child born out of lawful wedlock shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $500 or imprisonment not exceeding six months or both with or without hard labor in the discretion of the court

Section 2 Proceedings under this act may be instituted upon complaint made under oath or affirmation by one parent of such child or by any other person having knowledge of the facts

Section 3 This act shall apply whether such child shall have been begotten or shall have been born within or without this Commonwealth

Section 4 Before the trial with the consent of the defendant endorsed on the bill of indictment as now provided by law or at the trial on entry of a plea of guilty or after conviction instead of imposing the fine herein provided or in addition thereto the court in its discretion having regard to the circumstances and to the financial ability and earning capacity of the defendant shall have the power to make an order which shall be subject to change by the court from time to time as circumstances may require directing the defendant to pay a certain sum periodically for such time and to such person as the court may direct and the court shall have the power to suspend the sentence herein provided and release the defendant from custody on probation in manner provided by "An Act for relief of wives and children deserted by their husbands and fathers within this Commonwealth" approved the thirteenth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven and the supplements thereto provided that the defendant has entered into a recognizance in such sum with or without surety as the court shall direct for compliance with such order

Section 5 Whenever a parent is paying for the support of a child under an order of court made in any other proceeding civil criminal or quasi-criminal said parent shall not be subject to proceedings for support for the same child under this act Provided however That if said parent as defendant in such other proceedings has failed to obey such order of court said parent shall be subject to all the provisions of this act

Section 6 Any person who shall at any stage of the proceedings under this act knowingly make false statements as to who is the parent of a child shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or imprisonment not exceeding one year

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, this is one of the most drastic bills that has come before the House. It is a bill going entirely too far on this proposition, which will certainly be conceded by anybody who read the act or the statute. The bill provides punishment by imprisonment for failure to support an illegitimate child and it allows the court to fix a reasonable rate for the support for a length of time that is entirely too drastic. It has been changed to six months but still it is too drastic. This bill in my opinion, Mr. Speaker, will open the doors to many perjuries in this Commonwealth. It even goes so far as to give it ex-territorial—

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker, this bill is not on the file.

The SPEAKER. The Clerks inform the Chair that the bill is not on the files of the House, and therefore it cannot be considered at this time.

The SPEAKER. There are a number of bills on final passage postponed which can be called now. They will not be in order after we pass on to third reading bills.

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, at the top of page 24, of the calendar, bills on final passage postponed, is House Bill No. 243, File Folio 659, which I would call up at this time.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 243, entitled

A joint resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was first introduced and also House Bill No. 244, which follows it on the calendar, it applied to the entire State as it does at the present time. The object of having it on the postponed calendar was so that it could be made applicable to the City of Philadelphia. We in Philadelphia are interested in its passage, and of course only wanted it to apply to the City of Philadelphia. However it was a constitutional amendment which was made applicable to the State. There were many objections raised by the gentlemen from the other counties of the State both to 243 and 244. I took this matter up with Mr. Dell, who raised the principle objection to it, and we finally have agreed upon a change so that both bills 243 and 244 will only be made applicable to the City of Philadelphia, but if these bills are amended at this time it will be too late to pass them. Therefore, I have stated to Mr. Dell, as representing the delegation from the interior sections of the State that these bills will be amended when they reach the Senate so that they will only be applicable to the City of Philadelphia and I believe that was satisfactory to Mr. Dell. I only want to explain these bills briefly, Mr. Speaker. Bills 243 and 244 are known as excess condemnation and assessment of benefits. In the City of Philadelphia in the parkway program, it was found necessary in that program and also for the other municipal improvements to have excess condemnation or assessment of benefits. Assessment of benefits means this—it is following out the laws as now enacted in the State of New York—That where properties are benefited along a great public highway like the parkway in the City of Philadelphia, those men who are directly benefited ought to help to pay for the improvement of their property.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. BRADY. The gentleman is not speaking on House Bill 243, he is speaking on House Bill No. 244.

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will yield—I did not want to take the time of the House, and I desired to call up House Bill No. 244 at the same time and I thought we could save time.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman must confine himself to the bill before the House.

Mr. HECHT. I will take up House Bill 243, I wanted to take up both bills at once as there has been very much objection to the consumption of time.

The SPEAKER. The point of order has been raised, and the Chair must sustain it.

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, I understand thoroughly. I will then take up House Bill No. 243. I am going to make my remarks very short. With reference to excess condemnation, it means that where the City of Philadelphia, and this is applicable to the City of Philadelphia, that where the City of Philadelphia in pursuance of that parkway scheme and plan needs additional buildings and additional property, it takes them under certain proceedings of course giving to the property owner that to which he is entitled. In other words, it gives the City of Philadelphia the right to go ahead with these improvements without let or hindrance because of the fact that possibly one or two men owning property along the highway or the parkway can stop the developments.

This measure is endorsed, it is not my bill, it was given to me and is sponsored by me, but it is endorsed by the people of the City of Philadelphia. It was endorsed by what was called the Comprehensive Plans Committee of the City of Philadelphia. The Comprehensive Plans Committee of the City of Philadelphia is composed of men not identified with politics representing the civic life of the City of Philadelphia. Those men proposed this legislation as highly beneficial to the City of Philadelphia and some of the men on it are men like S. S. Fells, and Alba B. Johnson, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, and George S. Webster, who is now Director of the Department of Wharfs, Docks and Ferries. Now there is some objection from the City of Philadelphia, I want to be frank and fair about it, and that comes from the section represented by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Brady. There are some property owners in that section whose property will be directly interested in these proceedings, and of course those people are objecting to it. Now this proposition is for the general improvement of the City of Philadelphia, and I would ask the House to pass this bill.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hecht.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hecht, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HECHT. Certainly.

Mr. SIGGINS. Did you not prepare substitutes for these bills some two or three months ago?

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, I did.

Mr. SIGGINS. What is the status of those bills.

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, those bills are still in committee. They had not been reported out in time and I can say to the gentleman that if the time had been sufficient those bills would have been reported out.

Now, of course, I will say this to the gentleman from Warren and the gentleman from Huntingdon, Mr. Dell, that these bills, at the present time, especially No. 243, apply to the State of Pennsylvania, but there is no intention to make it applicable to the State of Pennsylvania, but to the City of Philadelphia,—by amendment.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, these two bills were introduced into this House on the 6th day of February. They were first reported from committee on the 27th of February. They have both been on the postponed calendar since the 18th of April. Since that time there has been plenty of opportunity to amend these bills so as to restrict them to the City of Philadelphia. These bills, as constitutional amendments, will provide laws for which the country at large will have no use, and if they are intended to apply to some local condition in Philadelphia, they should have been drafted and amended for that purpose. Consequently I hope that the members of this House will vote down these bills. The place to amend and make legislation is in this House of Assembly, and we should not pass it over to the Senate of Pennsylvania to do our work, especially since the bills have been on the postponed calendar since the 18th of April.

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, I do not yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hecht, in my regard for the City of Philadelphia, or in my desire to see it made beautiful, but I am against these amendments because it means that it is going to give the power to a municipality, to any municipality in the State, and to the State itself, the power to take one man's land and give it to another. It will be a constant invitation to scandal, and I think that I can show you the reason for these two amendments, especially this one. In 1913 there was an attempt made by the City of Philadelphia to take the land of some citizens of Philadelphia and convey it to one of the corporations there for ninety per cent. of the cost to the city, under the act of 1907. The Supreme Court declared that act unconstitutional, and said that the taking of the land of one and giving it to another was unconstitutional, and it was to get around the decision of Judge Mestrezat, of the Supreme Court, that this amendment was offered in 1915. It passed the last session of the Legislature without any discussion in the closing days of the session. It is something to my mind that means a vital qualification of the property rights of citizens. It is very different from the law in New York, and to prove that I will read the amendment which the New York Constitution has. It says: "The Legislature may authorize cities to take more land and property than is needed for actual construction in the laying out, widening, extending, or relocating parks, public places, highways or streets; provided, however, that the additional land and property so authorized to be taken shall be no more than sufficient to form suitable building sites abutting on such park, public place, highway or street. After so much of the land and property has been appropriated for such park, public place, highway or street as is needed therefor, the remainder may be sold or leased." In other words, in New York, when they condemn property and make use of what is known as excessive condemnation, they make a general condemnation. Under this amendment any municipality in this State could go and condemn any piece of property along any improvement or along any road and convey it to anybody else. There is nothing said in these amendments about the sale, the public sale. There is nothing whereby a man along any public improvement may be protected, and to my mind, if this is made a part of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, if this passes the present Assembly, it means that the property of the citizens will be at the mercy of any corrupt or frivolous mayor or council, and it means the rights, especially the property rights, will be absolutely qualified. Therefore I ask every member of this House to vote against this bill. To give you an idea how far the bill will go, I will read you the opinion of Justice Sharswood, in Palairot's Appeal, 67 Pa. 479: "Suppose then the Legislature should adopt what has been a favorite theory with many political economists, that small farms are injurious to the community, prevent the full development of the agricultural resources of a country, and ought therefore, as speedily as possible, to be united and formed into large ones. Then reciting this to be the true policy of the State, let them provide that every farm of less than one hundred acres shall be attached to and become the property of the adjoining owner of a larger farm at a valuation to be determined by a jury. When the king of Samaria coveted the little vineyard of Naboth hard by his palace, that he might have it for a garden of herbs, and offered to give him a better vineyard than it, or if it seemed good to him the worth of it in money, he was met by the sturdy answer, 'The Lord forbid it me that I should give the inheritance of my fathers unto thee.' Would any one be hardy enough to stand up in a republican country and claim for its government a power which an eastern monarch dared not to assume?" Then he goes on to say: "It was well remarked by Justice Gilchrist in the Concord Railroad Co. v. Greeley, 17 N. H. 57, that 'Even if the Legislature should declare that an act taking the property of A. and giving it to B. as his private property, was an application of it to public uses, no one would contend that such a declaration made that public which in its nature and object was private.'" It is to get around the words as defined by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, that these amendments are before us. I contend that if it passes it means that the property rights of every citizen will be absolutely qualified.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, it was early in April when we opposed these amendments in the committee. At that time the sponsor of the amendments, Mr. Hecht, came before the committee and agreed that if we would let them out of committee he would amend them so that they would affect Philadelphia alone. From that day until this day I have marked those bills, every legislative day when the House has been in session. Mr. Hecht, the representative from Philadelphia, came to-day with those amendments and proposed that the bills pass to-night and that the amendments be made in the Senate. As one representing the rural districts, I said to him, if that was carried out it would be satisfactory so far as I was concerned, and it is at the present time, so far as I am concerned. I know nothing about the condition in Philadelphia excepting what I hear the gentlemen say, but the sponsor of this bill proposed to me to-day that any one of us might go with him over to the Senate and have the amendments inserted there. I proposed that the amendments be made on the floor. He thought that this would delay his bills so they could not pass—if that were done. I simply make this statement in accordance with an agreement I had with him, that the amendments were satisfactory to me as he has them, provided he could get them into the bill.

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, I only want to say that these bills make no difference so far as I am concerned. Whether the House wants to give this to the City of Philadelphia or doesn't is a matter in which I am not interested, excepting to this extent, that it is true, as Mr. Dell has said, that we have had our discussions about them. It was a question as to whether or not the amendments should be passed. There have been many discussions between these men in Philadelphia and myself, who are interested in these amendments, and I told them that if they cannot be amended so as to satisfy the gentlemen who are opposed to it that I did not think that the bill should be pressed and because of that reason delay was consumed. These men have come to me; they have written to me and they have written to other members of the Philadelphia section and that is the reason I am calling them up to-night.

So far as the argument advanced by my good friend, Mr. Brady, of course, if there are people in his community who may be affected by this legislation he has the right and it is his duty to stand upon the floor and advance those reasons, but I only want to call attention to one thing in the amendment, that the City of Philadelphia—and if it applied all over the State, which is not intended—no municipality could take the rights and use the property unless it was subject to such restrictions as the Legislature may from time to time impose; in other words, these constitutional amendments give the municipality or City of Philadelphia no right at all except to say that we want the property and come to the following Legislature and see what restrictions you impose upon our taking that property and reimbursing the people from whom we have taken it. That is all they are; giving them a right to exercise if the Legislature sees fit to give it to them.

Now my only interest in this is the interest that these gentlemen in Philadelphia who made a comprehensive study of this subject gave to you gentlemen of the Legislature known as the "Report of the Permanent Committee on Comprehensive Planning," in which all of us from Philadelphia are interested, so that if it is a good thing at all it comes from representative citizens, men who have made a study, and it is safeguarded by these amendments. I can well understand that when you are asked to vote on a proposition which relates to the State you have absolutely nothing except what Mr. Dell and myself have discussed and Mr. Dell said to me, perfectly frankly, "I represent the thought of our gentlemen in the country districts," and I think Mr. Dell will bear me out in that, so that it has gone along until too late to put the amendments in. If we had another week these amendments would be inserted on the floor.

I have no desire to do anything except to look after the City of Philadelphia and Mr. Dell or any other gentleman, if these amendments are passed, can see that these amendments are put in. That is my only interest, the interest of every man from the City of Philadelphia, on both sides of our question from Philadelphia.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, in order to clarify this matter, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hecht.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hecht, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, certainly, sir.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Huntingdon will proceed.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask, does the gentleman from Philadelphia have any assurance from the Senators that the amendments he proposes will be accepted by the Senate?

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, I can say to the gentleman from Huntingdon, Mr. Dell, that if the amendments are not inserted as I want them for the City of Philadelphia or only applicable to the City of Philadelphia, I will protest against action on these pieces of legislation.

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, my objection to this bill is that it is state-wide and applies to every part of the State. The gentleman from Philadelphia states that it will be amended in the Senate. I see absolutely no reason why it will be amended in the Senate and when enacted into law there is absolutely nobody who can say that to do that would help the people of this State; and this amendment is one which absolutely goes into the very property rights of every citizen and it means that no man's property is going to be safe in any part of the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information and would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hecht, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, certainly.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, these amendments passed the last session.

Mr. HECHT. One of them, sir; I think that is No. 243, the one under discussion at the present time.

Mr. MAURER. The reason I ask the question you spoke of amendments that had passed the last session.

Mr. HECHT. If the gentleman will permit me, I will state that we have no desire to follow up that constitutional amendment that was passed last time. It is generally conceded by the men interested in this legislation in Philadelphia that that amendment should only have been made applicable to the City of Philadelphia, so that these amendments may go in as new constitutional amendments and cannot come up until the next session of the Legislature.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hecht.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hecht, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. HECHT. Certainly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MAURER. Is the purpose of these amendments when a city by a plan we will say for a boulevard takes and buys up more land than the city will need for the boulevard so as to control it and control the building sites thereon and thereby sell them again after improving them and making them more desirable than before the boulevard was constructed and thereby pay for the boulevard?

Mr. HECHT. The idea of this amendment, as stated in the amendment is for the purpose of controlling, first, the territory in which the improvement is made so that where millions of dollars have been spent like we have been spending in Philadelphia in making a boulevard and there is one little house which stands in the way after the expenditure of millions of dollars of the tax-payers money in making the improvements the city can take that property; in other words, that the city says to that owner, "We give you your value for your property but as a municipality we require it for the further development of our great project, we need your property." They may not need it at that time but they have a right, in the furtherance of their plans, if those plans are for further extension, they have the right to take that property and hold it until they use it.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, the thought that I had in mind in listening to the discussion on this subject was that perhaps Philadelphia had in mind a project similar to that of the City of Berlin. It is a well-known fact that the City of Berlin is perhaps one of the best managed cities in the world and some thirty years ago sought similar privileges from the Reichstag and they cleaned out the slum districts by buying up whole blocks of houses and then building up modern tenements and selling sites for placing other new and desirable buildings there and they made enough money on that property to pay for the beautifying and improving of it and to pay for the whole investment made by the city. I thought that perhaps that is what the amendments had in mind. If that is so, then, of course, I could not very consistently oppose the amendment as I know in my own city we have a district that should be wiped out, a miserable place, a disease-breeding district, that some day the city may have to buy to get rid of it, and if we are going to improve a place that is now known as the slums at the city's expense it would hardly be fair to make the improvement and not get the advance on those lands which would abut on the improvement and we should have some means of acquiring possession of the land. If we are going to improve for the benefit of the city and if that is the way the thing is ultimately going to work out, I would favor the amendment.

Mr. HECHT. I would say that is the general scheme, the development and the beautifying of the city and the erection on a program of big building and that will advance any municipality like Philadelphia and improve and embellish that particular section so that it will beautify and advance not only the property taken but the property of all men around it.

Instead of men objecting to a thing like this they should be glad of it, because every man who has a property surrounded by such magnificent developments as these proposed developments in Philadelphia, their property is enhanced in value and their investment is increased by reason of these improvements.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to again interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hecht.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Huntingdon, Mr. Dell, will proceed.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman how many Senators are there from Philadelphia?

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, there are eight.

Mr. DELL. You say there are eight Senators from Philadelphia? Has the gentleman from Philadelphia spoken to any of the Senators from Philadelphia relative to having this amendment inserted?

Mr. HECHT. I will state absolutely that as sponsor of the bill they will accede to my wishes.

Mr. DELL. Have you spoken to any of the committees there?

Mr. HECHT. None at all.

Mr. DELL. You have not arranged with anyone and you are not sure that these amendments will be inserted.

Mr. HECHT. Not at all.

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, the same bill was defeated in New Jersey. Being a constitutional amendment it cannot be amended in the Senate. If it were amended in the Senate it would have to come back again and the entire process repeated.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

PRAYER.

Our Father who art in Heaven, we come to Thee with confidence, beseeching Thee to teach us to love Thee and trust Thee. Put our hearts in the spirit of adoption. Surely we thank Thee for all the privileges we enjoy; yea, help us to realize what they are.

Forgive our sins and strengthen our weaknesses so that we sin not so readily against Thee. May we learn to live well while we stay here, using the world and not abusing it, and living in it so as to leave a blessing in it.

Lead us on and on to the end, and then bring us to the close of life's last day in peace and to Heaven's immortality. Grant these, our petitions and save us all, Amen.

Such appraiser shall make a fair conscionable appraisal of such estates and assess and fix the cash value of all annuities and life estates growing out of said estates upon which annuities and life estates the tax imposed by this act shall be immediately payable out of the estate at the rate of such valuation

Section 3 The compensation of such appraisers shall be as follows namely For each day during which an appraiser shall actually be engaged in making appraisements of property subject to the tax he shall receive the sum of five dollars. Section 4 Whenever because of the complicated nature of an estate subject to the payment of such tax the interest of the Commonwealth shall require the appointment as appraiser of such estate of a person possessed of expert or technical knowledge to ascertain the value thereof reasonable additional compensation shall be allowed such appraiser for the exercise of such expert or technical knowledge. In case where after the appointment of an appraiser it shall appear that the proper appraisal of said estate will require the services of a person possessed of expert or technical knowledge whereof the appraiser appointed is not possessed the appraiser may employ the services of a person possessed of expert or technical knowledge to assist him in the appraisal and for such services the person so employed shall receive reasonable compensation. In all such cases the register of will appointing the appraiser shall certify to the auditor general that there is an actual necessity for the appointment of an appraiser possessed of expert or technical knowledge or that the appraiser already appointed to appraise the estate in question should be assisted by a person possessed of such knowledge. No person shall be appointed as such expert appraiser or as expert assistant to the appraiser until the approval of the auditor general of said appointment is first obtained nor shall any payment be made to any appraiser or to any person employed by him under this section until an itemized statement of the services performed and the compensation recommended shall have been rendered under oath or affirmation to the auditor general for his approval and shall have received the same. Upon conviction of such misdemeanor such appraiser shall be fined not exceeding five hundred dollars or imprisoned not exceeding one year or both

Section 6 Any person not satisfied with any appraisalment may appeal within thirty days to the orphans' court on paying or giving security to pay all costs together with whatever tax shall be fixed by the court. Upon such appeal the court may determine all questions of valuation and of the liability of the appraised estate for such tax subject to the right of appeal to the supreme or superior court

Section 7 The register of wills shall enter in a book to be provided at the expense of the Commonwealth which shall be a public record the returns made by all appraisers under the provisions of this act opening an account in favor of the Commonwealth against each decedent's estate. The register may give certificates of payment of such tax from such record. The register shall transmit to the auditor general on the first day of each month a statement of all returns made by appraisers during the preceding month upon which the taxes have been paid or remain unpaid which statement shall be entered by the auditor general in a book to be kept for that purpose. Whenever any such tax shall have remained due and unpaid for one year the register may apply to the orphans' court by bill or petition to enforce the payment of the same whereupon the court having caused notice to be given to the owner of the real estate charged with the tax and to such other person as may be interested shall proceed according to equity to make such decrees or orders for the payment of the tax out of such real estate as shall be just and proper.

Section 8 If the register shall discover that any tax imposed by this act has not been paid the orphans' court may cite the executors or administrators of the decedent whose estate is subject to the tax to file an account or to appear on a certain day and show cause why the tax should not be paid. When personal service cannot be had notice shall be given for four weeks once a week in at least one newspaper published in the county and in the legal periodical designated by the rules of court of the county for the publication of legal notices. If the tax shall be found to be due the delinquent shall pay the costs. The tax shall be assessed upon the value of the estate at the time the right of possession accrues to the owner but the owner may pay the tax at any time prior to his coming into possession. In such cases the tax shall be assessed on the value of the estate at the time of the payment of the tax after deducting the value of the life estate or estates for years. The tax on real estate shall remain a lien on the real estate on which the same is chargeable until paid. The owner of any personal estate shall make a full return of the same to the register of wills within one year from the death of the decedent and within that time enter into security for the payment of the tax to the satisfaction of such register. In case of failure so to do the tax shall be immediately payable.

Section 10 If the tax is paid within three months after the death of the decedent a discount of five per centum shall be allowed. If the tax is not paid at the end of one year from the death of the decedent interest shall be charged at the rate of twelve per centum per annum on such tax. Where because of claims made upon the estate litigation or other unavoidable cause of delay the estate of any decedent or any part thereof cannot be settled up at the end of the year interest at the rate of six per centum shall be charged upon the tax arising from the unsettled part thereof from the end of such year until there be default. Where real or personal estate withheld by reason of litigation or other cause of delay in manner aforesaid from the parties entitled thereto subject to such tax has not been productive to the extent of six per centum per annum the proper parties shall not pay a greater amount as interest to the Commonwealth than they have realized or shall realize from such estate during the time the same has been or shall be withheld as aforesaid.

Section 11 The executor or administrator or other trustee paying any legacy or share in the distribution of any estate subject to the said tax shall deduct therefrom at the rate of two dollars in every hundred dollars upon the whole legacy or sum paid or if not money he shall demand payment of a sum to be computed at the same rate upon the appraised value thereof. No executor or administrator shall be compelled to pay or deliver any specific legacy or article to be distributed subject to tax except on the payment into his hands of a sum computed on its value as aforesaid. In case of neglect or refusal on the part of such legatee to pay the same such specific legacy or article or so much thereof as shall be necessary shall be sold by such executor or administrator at public sale after notice to such legatee and the balance that may be left in the hands of the executor or administrator shall be distributed as is or may be directed by law. Every sum of money retained by any executor or administrator or paid into his hands on account of any legacy or distributive share for the use of the Commonwealth shall be paid by him without delay.

Section 12 When a legacy subject to tax under this act is given to any person for life or for a term of years or for any other limited period upon a condition of contingency of the same be money the tax thereon shall be retained upon the whole amount but if not money application shall be made to the orphans' court to make apportionment if the case require it of the sum to be paid by such legatees and for such further order relative thereto as equity shall require.

Whenever any such legacy shall be charged upon or payable out of real estate the heir or devisee before paying the same shall deduct therefrom at the rate aforesaid and pay the amount so deducted to the executor and the same shall remain a charge upon such real estate until paid and the payment thereof shall be enforced by the decree of the orphans' court in the same manner as the payment of such legacy may be enforced.

Section 13 Whenever any real estate of which any decedent may die seized shall be subject to the tax the executors and administrators shall give information thereof to the register of the county where administration has been granted within six months after they undertake the execution of their respective duties or if the fact be no known to them within that period then within one month after the same shall have come to their knowledge. The owners of such estate immediately upon its vesting shall give information thereof to the register having jurisdiction of the granting of administration.

Section 14 Any executor or administrator on the payment of said tax shall take duplicate receipts from the register both of which shall be forwarded forthwith to the auditor general who shall charge the register receiving the money with the amount and seal with the seal of his office and countersign the original receipt and transmit it to the executor or administrator whereupon it shall be a proper voucher in the settlement of the estate. In no event shall an executor or administrator be entitled to a credit in his account by the register unless the receipt is so sealed and countersigned by the auditor general.

Section 15 Whenever any foreign executor or administrator or trustee shall assign or transfer any stocks or loans in this Commonwealth standing in the name of the decedent or in trust for the decedent which shall be liable for the tax imposed by this act such tax shall be paid on the transfer thereof to the register of the county where such transfer is made otherwise the corporation permitting such transfer shall become liable to pay such tax.

Section 16 Whenever debts shall be proved against the estate of a decedent after distribution of legacies from which the tax has been deducted in compliance with this act and the legatee is required to refund any portion of a legacy a portion of the said tax shall be repaid to him by the executor or administrator if the tax has not been paid into the state or county treasury or by the county treasurer if it has been so paid.

Section 17 The registers of wills upon their filing with the auditor general the bond hereinafter required shall be the agents of the Commonwealth for the collection of the said tax. For services rendered in collecting and paying over the same they shall be allowed to retain for their own use upon the gross amount collected during any year five per centum upon the tax collected if such tax shall amount to a sum of fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars or less three per centum on the amounts collected in excess of fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars and not exceeding one hundred thousand ($100,000) dollars two per centum on the amounts collected in excess of one hundred thousand ($100,000) dollars and not over two hundred thousand ($200,000) dollars and one per centum on the amounts collected in excess of two hundred thousand ($200,000) dollars.

Section 18 Each register shall give bond to the Commonwealth in such penal sum as the orphans' court may direct with two or more sufficient sureties for the faithful performance of the duties hereby imposed and for the regular accounting and paying over of the amounts to be collected and received. This bond when executed and approved shall be forwarded to the auditor general.

Until such bond and security be given the said tax shall be collected by the county treasurer. In such cases all the provisions of this act relating to collection and payment by registers shall apply to the county treasurer.

Section 19 Each register of wills shall on the first Monday of each month make return to the Auditor General and return and payment to the state treasurer of all taxes imposed and received under this act stating for what estate paid upon. All taxes collected by him and not paid over within one month after his quarterly return of the same he shall pay interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum until paid.

Section 20 The lien of the said tax shall continue until the tax is settled and satisfied and shall be limited to the property chargeable therewith. All such taxes shall be sued for within five years after they are due otherwise they shall be presumed to have been paid and cease to be a lien as against any purchasers of real estate.

Section 21 In all cases where any amount of such tax is paid erroneously to the register of wills the state treasurer on satisfactory proof rendered to him by said register of wills of such erroneous payment may refund and pay over to the person paying such tax the amount erroneously paid. All such applications for the repayment of such tax erroneously paid in the treasury shall be made within two years from the date of payment except when the estate upon which such tax has been erroneously paid shall have consisted in whole or in part of a partnership or other interest of uncertain value or shall have been involved in litigation by reason whereof there shall have been an over-valuation of that portion of the estate on which the tax has been assessed and paid which over-valuation could not have been ascertained within said period of two years in such case the application for repayment shall be made to the state treasurer within one year from the termination of such litigation or ascertainment of such over-valuation.

NAYS—3.

Maurer, McCurdy, Patterson,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up on page 11 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed, House Bill No. 1499, file folio 8625.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1499, entitled

An Act granting power in certain cases to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or to any department thereof and to any municipal sub-division of the Commonwealth to purchase or condemn lands having thereon located road building material and to enter upon and cross private property and to locate and erect necessary machinery thereon and providing a method for the assessment of damages.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I believe this is the celebrated eminent domain bill which was defeated by the House on a former occasion, and I simply rise to reiterate the sentiments that I expressed at the time this bill was before the House for our consideration. I still believe, Mr. Speaker, that it would be a very poor precedent for this Commonwealth to establish to permit the right of eminent domain to be exercised in a manner such as this bill would permit, and I therefore ask the members of the House to consistently vote as they did before and defeat this measure.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, this is a bill granting the power in certain cases to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, or any department thereof, to purchase or condemn lands having thereon located road building material. When this bill was up for consideration at an earlier date before the House, I opposed the bill, but I opposed it at that time because it not only granted this power to the Commonwealth, but it granted it to any municipal division of the Commonwealth. In other words, it granted it to the supervisors of townships. I presume we can all very readily fancy how that power, in the hands of supervisors of townships, would have led to numerous neighborhood quarrels, and was a power that I should say was improperly vested in the hands of one neighbor against the other, for that is the manner in which that would have worked out if the township supervisors were privileged to enter upon his neighbor's premises and take therefrom by condemnation proceedings materials to be used on the roads, but as the bill is now amended the power is granted only to the Commonwealth and departments thereof, and the person owning the material, as I understand it, is well protected. You will notice that before the right conferred by this act shall be exercised, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any department thereof shall present its petition to the court of common pleas in the community where the material is located, setting forth the name of the owner, and so on, and it is only after the court of common pleas has passed upon the advisability of this procedure that the Commonwealth is permitted to enter upon private property, for which it has to pay amply, to take such materials as are of a quality and appropriate to be used upon roads, which material is located advantageously. Now I take it, gentlemen, that the present exorbitant cost of building these State roads is largely due to the fact that in very many instances the materials used in their construction are brought from a point far removed. I know of numerous instances where the building of State roads was increased in cost, doubled in cost, yea trebled in cost, because the materials that the contractor was compelled to use, as specified by the Highway Department, could only be secured at points far removed; and the freight and the drayage and cost of removing these materials on the road were many times in excess of the cost of the material, and in numerous instances the same material that had been used could have been secured at points nearby. I do not see how this can work a hardship on any one. The owner of these materials will be adequately compensated, and I will say further to you, gentlemen, that I do not believe that the eminent gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern, has any really serious objections to the passage of this bill, and I ask you, gentlemen, to vote aye on it.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALTER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Lancaster said just a moment ago that this bill gives the privilege to the Highway Department only. Now I would like to ask the gentleman from Franklin whether this bill gives that privilege to a contractor working under the direction of the Highway Department.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I would say most emphatically no. No public body can delegate the power of condemnation.

Mr. DELL. Is it not true that the contractor could take advantage of this eminent domain bill, by using the Highway Department, in constructing a road?

Mr. WALTER. No, I think not, not until the Commonwealth had acquired title.

Mr. DELL. I would ask you to say definitely, not "I think." We want the answer yes or no.

Mr. WALTER. No, the contractor could only procure it, the material, where the Commonwealth had absolutely acquired title, and could not in the first place exercise the right of eminent domain. My friend from Philadelphia suggests that that question might have arisen under the bill as originally prepared, but taking the suggestion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds, I so amended the bill that this question cannot now arise.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, as is well known, we from the rural districts were bitterly opposed to this bill in its original form. As it is amended, if it were the State alone, it would not be so hazardous but I still am of the opinion that the contractors and the subcontractors could take advantage of the law and go on to your farm and condemn land and take therefrom road materials. If that is true then it would permit a contractor to make a profit upon the land he condemned and used for his purposes. I am just as much in favor of building the roads as any man in the House and I am just as much opposed to exorbitant expenses in building those roads, but our experience has been that they cost just about the same whether the road material is close or whether it is not close. In building roads in our own county at least, I know most of the material has been secured right along the road and yet the cost of building those roads has been about as high as it is in any other place.

Then there is another feature of this bill that I wish to call your attention to. It says, "road materials." Frequently on a farm there is a sand bar running through that farm, possibly through the center of one of the best fields on the farm. If this bill became a law and a contractor could take advantage of it—notice I say that if he could take advantage of it—then he could go into the center of your field, excavate a hole in the field from which to take the sand and leave the field in such a condition that the owner would ever thereafter be obliged to keep a fence around it for the protection of his stock. I saw a condition of that kind in Snyder County just a few days ago. Again, frequently a limestone ledge runs through the center of a field and the same condition would exist there.

Now, if it were possible to take this road material in such a way that it would not damage the whole farm then we are not opposed to the measure, but as it stands now I cannot see how it could be other than that it would enable the contractor to damage a farm for his own profit. As I said before, if they can show definitely that it is merely giving that right to the State alone, then it is not so bad.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I had hoped not to take any part in this discussion that there are so many errors in the statement of the gentleman from Huntingdon that I feel compelled to reply to it.

In the first place, there is nothing in this bill—and I ask those members not to take my word for it but to take the word of any lawyer in the House—there is nothing in the bill that will permit contractors to take anybody's land for their own private purposes. I do say that if the State acquired and paid for a stone quarry or sand bank they can permit the contractors to haul out from that and can hire teams to take the sand out; but only in that way could it be used.

Now, with respect to the damages in this taking, they are secured to the land owner by the Commonwealth. A jury will have to pass upon how much they are and if the Commonwealth is foolish enough to go to the center of a man's farm and take materials why, the man would get paid not only for the materials but for any possible injury it would do his farm before or after the taking. He is bound, under the constitution, to be made whole.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I cannot see anything in this opposition to this bill but a desire on the part of some of these gentlemen, who have been so active and earnest in getting fifty-two road bills on the calendar, of enabling them and their constituents to hold out for the high dollar in case they happen to have any materials on their lands which the State Highway Department may require. When this bill was under discussion before I pointed to the fact that where it is necessary to make a fill the cost of the fill depended very largely on the extent of the haul and there are lots of cases where there are gullies and a causeway must be made over these gullies and in those instances the landowner nearby has every advantage. He can ask an enormous price, as much as the land itself is worth, simply because of the cost of the haul; and it is circumstances of such a character that this bill is designed to meet, and this is designed to prevent the landowner or the owner of road-making materials securing an unfair price by reason of his location.

Now, Mr. Speaker, this, as I said on a former occasion, is a bill that gives the right to the people to have their money judiciously expended and made to go as far as possible. If you can do anything to cheapen the cost of construction of highways you can get more highways, and I cannot see how any gentleman who is desirous of imposing five hundred and ninety-two miles of road upon the State Highway Department can consistently oppose this bill. Everyone is interested in good roads; they are just as necessary under present conditions or even more necessary than railroads. You give this power to water companies, gas companies, electric light companies, and half a dozen other corporations without reserve, and the damages to the landowner are assessed in court and are paid by the corporation. Now, why should not the Commonwealth be able to take materials for its own purposes and pay for them what the jury of the county will assess? Mr. Speaker, the amendment which is in section two of this bill requires the Commonwealth, before it exercises the right, to get the approval of the court and I say as a matter of law that it is a matter in which the associate judges in these counties would have as much to say as the president judge, and all farm buildings and the curtilages pertaining thereto and all public buildings are exempted from the operation of the bill; and I believe that the rights of the landowner are safeguarded to a greater extent under this bill than under any other law of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which permits the condemnation of land.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, Do I understand the gentleman to say that electric light companies and other public service corporations have the right of eminent domain as extended by this Act?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, No, they have the right of eminent domain as before and there is a bill on our calendar to that effect.

Mr. SIGGINS. Do they have the power of eminent domain other than for the purposes for which they were created insofar as you have mentioned?

Mr. WALTER. None whatever. I used that as a general term. They have no power to take private property against the will of the owner.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, public service corporations have the power of eminent domain for the purpose of taking private property for any particular purpose, such as extending roads and highways, etc., but there is no public service corporation that has such a right of eminent domain as is intended to give by this particular Act. This Act does not give the right of eminent domain for the purpose of laying out a road which would be similar to the powers of eminent domain of the public service corporations. It gives power to go outside of the thoroughfares which they are constructing, to take private property for the purpose of building them. The property which they take is not to be used for the public good but for the trunk line itself; consequently this power of eminent domain is vastly different from any other power of eminent domain which is possessed by any other public service corporation in this State.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Siggins.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Siggins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I understand that the gentleman from Warren is Chairman of the Committee on Counties and Townships?

Mr. SIGGINS. Yes sir, I am.

Mr. WALTER. I want to ask the gentleman if he does not know that townships now have the right to take road making materials from private land?

Mr. SIGGINS. Yes sir, that is true; but, Mr. Speaker, that provision was given in the Township Code and is a provision of old standing, given at a time when it was absolutely necessary that the roads were made so that people could go from one place to another, and that power was used in a few small isolated cases where it was necessary to open a road when the funds of the township were small. But here is a big department, extending over a large State which is well organized to extend this power of eminent domain to this department. In my opinion it would be very dangerous.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say just a word. I happen to have some experience in my county in the building of turnpikes. In my county, the county of Lancaster, we have twenty-five per cent. of the mileage of the turnpikes of the State. I know as a fact that many, particularly one turnpike, with which I am entirely familiar, was built at a cost of five thousand dollars a mile and it is being maintained from year to year at an expense of two hundred and fifty dollars a mile. Gentleman, what does that mean? It means this: That an investment of ten thousand dollars a mile will build that turnpike and endow it with a fund that will keep it permanently in repair forever. That is what it means. We are building State roads today and they are costing from thirty to forty thousand dollars a mile and in two or three years you have hammered them to pieces and then you go away across the Commonwealth somewhere to get material and spend from three to four thousand dollars a mile and the next time in three or four years you will do the same thing all over again. I will agree with you that in Lancaster County the roads are not quite as fine or as smooth as your State roads, but they are a mighty big improvement on the clay roads. If you don't believe it try it in the middle of March when the frost comes out of the ground, but there is a great difference in the cost. When these turnpikes were built the community was in sympathy with the proposition and for every mile of the turnpike rocks were being taken from the farms adjoining and that not only helped to build good roads but it benefited the property of the farmers adjoining. What is the attitude today of the community in the building of a State road. The minute the information is given that a State road is to be built there in a community everybody gets chesty and they say, "Here is where I get rich; I have a deposit of material here and I am going to soak the State to the last cent." As a result, very frequently, the freight paid on the material is more than three times the cost of the stone and then you have to dray it anywhere from five to six miles to get to the distant points on the road. I don't believe this power has to be used. I believe that the fact that a man who owns proper material which is located along side of that road realizes that if he is not reasonable in his demands the State will take it and give him what the jury says it is worth and he will concede and dispose of it at a proper price and enable this money that we are endeavoring to raise from session to session to construct a great many more miles of road. It can do no one any harm. The gentleman from Huntingdon says they can go on a man farm and dig a sand-hole and I will say that if they do that they will pay for it and they will pay what the jury authorizes and what it is worth. No one can be injured by this bill. As it is drawn today, this is a good bill and I ask you to support it, as it is going to increase your mileage of good roads at a reduced cost.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Mr. MCKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 1761

A Supplement to an act approved the thirteenth day of May eighteen hundred and seventy-six entitled "An Act for the incorporation and regulation of banks of discount and deposit" and authorizing the creation and maintenance of sub-offices or sub-agencies.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER in the presence of the House signed the same.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is informed that on page 10 of to-day's calendar, Senate Bill No. 834, which was passed over this morning on account of not being on the files, is now on the files. The House will proceed to its consideration at this time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1866 (Senate Bill No. 834), as follows:

An Act making it a misdemeanor for a parent wilfully to neglect to support a child born out of lawful wedlock whether such child shall have been begotten or shall have been born within or without this Commonwealth providing punishment therefor and empowering the court to make an order for support and to enforce the same And making it a misdemeanor to make false declarations as to who is the parent of the child and providing punishment therefor

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That any parent who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to contribute reasonably to the support and maintenance of a child born out of lawful wedlock shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) or imprisonment not exceeding six months or both with or without hard labor in the discretion of the court.

Section 2 Proceedings under this act may be instituted upon complaint made under oath or affirmation by any other person having knowledge of the facts.

Section 3 This act shall apply whether such child shall have been begotten or shall have been born within or without this Commonwealth.

Section 4 Before the trial with the consent of the defendant endorsed on the bill of indictment as now provided by law or at the trial on entry of a plea of guilty or after conviction instead of imposing the fine herein provided or in addition thereto the court in its discretion having regard to the circumstances and to the financial ability and earning capacity of the defendant shall have the power to make an order which shall be subject to change by the court from time to time as circumstances may require directing the defendant to pay a certain sum periodically for such time and to such person as the court may direct and the court shall have the power to suspend the sentence herein provided by "An Act for relief of wives and children deserted by their husbands and fathers within this Commonwealth" approved the thirteenth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven and the supplements thereto provided that the defendant has entered into a recognizance in such sum with or without surety as the court shall direct for compliance with such order.

Section 5 Whenever a parent is paying for the support of a child under an order of court made in any other proceeding civil criminal or quasi-criminal said parent shall not be subject to proceedings for support for the same child under this act. Provided however That if said parent as defendant in such other proceedings has failed to obey such order of court said parent shall be subject to all the provisions of this act.

Section 6 Any person who shall at any stage of the proceedings under this act knowingly make false statements as to who is the parent of a child shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or imprisonment not exceeding one year.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill relates to the support by a parent of an illegitimate child. It is very radical in its provisions, in that it purports to extend the statute of limitations indefinitely. Under the law as it now stands, when a bastard is begotten the prosecution must be brought and a bill found within two years. Under this act a man could be convicted of a misdemeanor fifteen or even twenty years after the child has been born, in case he refuses to support it. Now, Mr. Speaker, the statutes of limitations are good things. A man may be ever so innocent, and in the course of five or ten years his witnesses may have gone away or died, or the facts forgotten that would acquit him. The only crime which would have a similar period during which a prosecution might be brought is that of murder. The limitation in other serious crimes is five years, and in some instances ten years, but in the ordinary misdemeanors it is two years. Then there is another fault in the bill, in the last section, which was amended when this bill was before the House yesterday or the day before, and that is that the making of a false statement in connection with getting an order against a parent for the support of an illegitimate child is punishable by imprisonment for six months. Perjury, as I recall it, is punishable by imprisonment not exceeding five years. This is making it less dangerous to make a false statement in the trial of a case brought under this statute than it is in the ordinary cases, and I can see Mr. Speaker, no reason for making an exception in this case. The intention of this bill is perhaps good. Its influence might be salutary, but in its present form it is unwise and unreasonable, and ought not to be enacted into law.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, owing to this being a Senate bill, and as there possibly seems to be some controversy in reference to it, I move you, sir, that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

The SPEAKER. On page 5 of to-day's calendar there is an appropriation bill, Senate Bill No. 1599, which was passed over this morning, the same not being on the files. The Chair is informed that this bill is now on the files and the House will proceed to its consideration.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2033 (Senate Bill No. 1599), as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Home of the Good Shepherd Fairmount Avenue and Thirty-Fifth Street Philadelphia Pennsylvania

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of thirteen thousand five hundred ($13,500) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Home of the Good Shepherd Philadelphia Pennsylvania for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and seventeen for the purpose of maintenance

NAYS—1.

Miller, Allan.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendments.

Mr. McKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time from page 60 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 1831 (Senate Bill No. 574), File Folio 2539.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1831 (Senate Bill No. 574), entitled

An Act requiring borough councils township commissioners township supervisors and school directors to file auditors' reports in the office of the clerk of quarter sessions requiring the county commissioners to furnish books for that purpose imposing certain duties on auditors fixing the fee of the clerk of the court and providing for removal from office in case of failure to comply therewith.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explain its provisions and the necessity for it.

The SPEAKER. This is a Senate bill.

Mr. SIMPSON. I understand that, Mr. Speaker, but the gentleman from Venango, Mr. McKinney, seems to be sponsoring this bill in the House, and that is why I asked.

Mr. McKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I am not sponsoring this bill, simply called it up in order to have a vote on it. As I understand the bill it requires the county commissioners to furnish a book so that the auditors' reports shall be placed on record and recorded in this book instead of simply being filed, as is the present custom.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, for every piece of legislation there should be some good reason to pass it. I know of no reason this bill should pass. In the first place, the phraseology is vague. It provides that the Clerk of the court shall receive two dollars for each entry to be made. Now, whether that means that every word shall be considered an entry or every item shall be considered an entry or every account of the poor board, of the school boards, of the council of the borough, or what it means, I do not know. The law now reads that the auditors file their reports with the clerk of the court. This provides that instead of the auditors filing the account it is to be done by the boards whose accounts have been audited. I do not believe that the officers of these various boards are any more likely to file their accounts than the auditors themselves. I do not see that this is an advantage over our present law. I think that it is a useless piece of legislation.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

MOTION TO ADJOURN.

Mr. HOWARTH offered a motion which was read as follows:

Moved by Mr. Howarth, seconded by Mr. Phillips that this House do now adjourn until Monday, June 25, at 9:00 P. M.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The Speaker declared the "ayes" appeared to have it. Whereupon, a division was called for, and forty-eight voting in the affirmative and fifty-eight in the negative, the motion was not agreed to.

TIME EXTENDED ON BILLS.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I ask an extension of five days' time on Senate Bill No. 58, File Folio 1409, entitled

An Act to amend the first section of an act entitled "An Act to amend the second section of an act entitled 'An Act relative to the sale and conveyance of real estate' approved

The SPEAKER. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the extensions are granted.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up Senate Bill No. 907, File Folio 2559, on page 62 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1841 (Senate Bill No. 907), entitled

An Act to validate certain deeds and conveyances made by trustees without setting forth their authority to convey.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 1, by striking out in lines 11, 12, 13, 14, 15 and 16 the following: "such conveyance actually made with the consent and for the benefit of the parties for whom the property was held and the purchaser or purchasers in good faith have entered into possession of such property and have made improvements on the same or have conveyed it to others and it."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to making the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be made in according with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. As the amendment consists only of a strikeout, the bill is now on final passage.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wobensmith, knows the purpose of this act and the meaning of it, I would like to have him explain it to the House and the purpose for which it is being passed.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I may say that when this bill was before the House originally on account of certain peculiar words in the bill, I asked at that time that it be postponed. I have no personal interest in it other than to see that the legislation was in proper shape, and this amendment which is now made was at the suggestion of the Senator who introduced the bill in the Senate and meets with his approval and clarifies the bill so that now there is no mistake in the meaning of it which is simply this: That where a person takes title, being defined as trustee, without the deed of conveyance setting forth the nature and character of the trust and subsequently that trustee conveys in the same manner in which he received the property, as a bare trustee, that it is a perfectly good title. This is a point upon which there was some disagreement among lawyers and there is a supreme court case which is not entirely clear and not entirely satisfactory; but every Philadelphia lawyer, at least, who does any real estate work knows that the title companies there constantly raise the objection that where a past chain of titles shows the conveyance made by a trustee may be five or six steps back in the chain of titles they require you to go back and ascertain the nature and character of that trust and ascertain what application was made of the purchase money. Very often it imposes extra insurance fees and examination fees which are entirely unnecessary, and the orphans court, in one case that I was interested in, notwithstanding we could not get title insurance, held the objections of the title company were frivolous. This act clarifies the law where an innocent purchaser long after the transaction is completed finds himself in the position that he cannot make title because he cannot locate the parties. I think this is a very good bill simply to let the people know what the law on the subject is.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wobensmith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Certainly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, then as I understand it, Mr. Wobensmith, the original transfer from the trustee to a purchaser recites the title of the trustee and also his trust and duties; is that not so?

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, no, no. If the gentleman will read the bill he will see that this is limited entirely to that class of conveyances where real property has been conveyed to any person as trustee without naming the cestui que trust and without declaring the purpose of the trust; in other words, where he takes as bare trustee. Now it is without naming who the beneficiary is under that trust or what the purpose or nature and character of the trust is; in other words, it simply means this, that where title is taken by the person, naming him as trustee, that person can convey in the same manner in which he receives.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Whether or not his duties and his reasons for being trustee, as should be set forth, was recited in the deed or not?

Mr. WOBENSMITH. No, no; you are wrong. The point is that this only applies where the duties are not set forth in the conveyance to the trustee.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

TIME EXTENDED ON BILLS.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I move that the time on Senate Bill No. 513, entitled

An Act regulating the collection of county taxes in counties containing over one hundred thirty-five thousand and less than one hundred fifty thousand inhabitants creating the office of receiver of taxes in such counties and prescribing the powers and duties of said office.

on page 11 of to-day's calendar be extended five days.

Mr. EDGAR R. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. BOVEE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the time on Senate Bill No. 262, entitled

An Act authorizing county controllers in counties having a population of more than one hundred thousand and less than one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants to appoint a solicitor prescribing the duties of said solicitor and fixing his salary.

on page 60 of to-day's calendar be extended five days.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

POINT OF INFORMATION.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that Senate Bill No. 513 has been granted an extension of five days time?

The SPEAKER. That is the information that the Chair has received.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, at the instant the gentleman called up his bill I objected. I repeatedly called for recognition, and my question of information is, does that extension of time stand or is my objection recognized?

The SPEAKER. A single objection would not interfere with a motion. The gentleman could have appealed to the House and by a majority vote the question would have been decided.

MOTION TO ADJOURN.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday evening, June 25th, at 9:00 o'clock.

Mr. HOWARTH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Pittsburgh, Mr. McCaig, withdraw his motion?

Mr. McCaig, I will withdraw my motion.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I beg leave to ask unanimous consent to call up House Bill No. 1390, page 18 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading. I desire to explain why I am calling it up. It is a bounty bill. Every county bounty bill has gone through this House unanimously. The reason why this bill has always been back on the calendar was because it was not reached by the Speaker. This bill is on the calendar by reason of a communication from Dr. Kalbfus and Dr. Kalbfus said, "We owe you thirty-four hundred dollars," and the county commissioners gave us this bill and I called on Dr. Kalbfus and he said that the only remedy is the bill and the bill is here on that account.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I want to ask whether this was not provided for under the General Bounty Bill?

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, all of you have had the same privilege and it is a question of whether our county is to have the same privilege as the rest.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, there was a bill embracing all counties.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, this is a separate bill for our county.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection and the bill will be taken up at this time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1390, entitled

An Act authorizing Cambria County to bring suit against the Commonwealth in the court of common pleas of Dauphin County.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO ORDER OF BUSINESS.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I desire to offer a resolution and before doing so I want to have the privilege of making a few remarks bearing upon that resolution. I want to call the attention of the members of the House who have served as members for more than one session to the fact of the custom and not only of the custom but of the necessity of it at this time offering this resolution. I want to at the same time, if I can, appeal to the new men of the House to show them the necessity of this resolution. The members of this House will recall that a few days ago the members of the Rules Committee offered a resolution to fix the calendar for the sessions to follow that date. The sentiment of the members of this House at that time was that we should proceed with the regular order of business during this week and that next week would be the proper time for such a resolution. I want to say to the members of this House and I believe everyone of you will honestly agree with me that a House Bill considered after this date will be almost useless, it will be time wasted by the members of the House and that the Senate after today will consider only House measures and not Senate Bills. It therefore is our duty as legislators to consider the measures that have been sent over from the Senate up to this time. Gentlemen, let us be fair in this matter and give this resolution that I am going to offer the fairest consideration for the shaping of the calendar beginning with Monday in order that we may come to twelve o'clock noon on Thursday in shape to adjourn this House without even the possibility of going over for an hour or two. I believe that you men who are opposed or in favor of any Senate measures will vote for this resolution and allow those measures to come before the House and let us go on record and as men who are sent here to do the work. Mr. Speaker, I therefore offer the following resolution.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the resolution as follows:

House of Representatives, Thursday, June 21, 1917.

Resolved, That the order of business for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, on all calendars, shall be as follows:

Revenue bills, first.
Appropriation bills, second.
Senate bills, third.

Signed W. P. RAMSEY.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, it has long been a perished hope of mine that we would have a little fair play. Mr. friends, the workers of the State of Pennsylvania have been trying for weeks and months to have the Compensation Amendments brought before you for your attention. Every time that we have made an effort to bring these amendments before you it has been defeated. You say, let us come here as men and do our work. I agree with our friend. Yes, but when I look back to the needs of some of the people that are suffering because of the want of amendments to this act I say we have not been dealt fairly with. Mr. friends I can picture an old friend of mine in the little town of Taylor, a man with his two eyes blown out and his one hand blown off in the mines. I can see his six little children and his wife dependent upon him. I can see the bad defects in the Compensation Law that is depriving them of fair compensation. We have been attempting, as I said before, my friends, to try to have a remedy for that. This man receives less, and his family is worse off, my friends, than if the poor fellow had passed away. If he had passed away, his children would be receiving compensation until sixteen years of age. At this time he is held down to five dollars a week. Men have had their fingers and toes taken off and we have been trying to get these amendments before you. We speak of fair play. Let me tell you, my friends, that the working class of people have been asking for fair play, and I want to tell you that this measure is just as important, and far more important, than any Senate bill that I have seen on the calendar. We say, let us discuss Senate bills. What have we been doing for the last two or three days? Only that. There is some other measure perhaps you are interested in, that is not a Senate bill. Everybody is trying to move around some little piece of legislation that will try to put back on to the workers a hardship that will make him a patriot. They have been laboring under this guise of patriotism by trying to get bills before you that will repeal certain measures, labor measures of this State. We know why the Senate bills are to be considered first. I want to say to you that there is still a chance and these Compensation Amendments should come out before this House. We have plenty of time on Monday night yet to pass upon them either favorably or defeat them, sending them to the Senate if favorable, and give the working class of people of this State a fair run for their money.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, the resolution before us might be tolerated if it was fair, but it is not fair. Now for the benefit of some of you members, and I say this with all due respect to the sponsor of the resolution, of course I do not mean to say that he has any ulterior motive, but I say that from my point of view, or my angle, it is not fair. From his angle it looks quite fair but for the benefit of you who may not have been in touch with the Compensation Amendments I want to give you just a bit of inside history, and what it means to us people who have been active with these amendments. Last year I commenced work with the Department of State—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine himself to the question.

Mr. MAURER. I am, my dear sir. I am speaking strictly on the question.

The SPEAKER. Not in discussing what happened a year ago.

Mr. MAURER. I am speaking on the subject before us, Mr. Speaker, if you please. I took up this Compensation bill with the Department of State, and that is the important point. It appears up until January or February we got along very nicely. It was agreed that the administration would go along with these amendments. Mr. Mackey, who since has repudiated his part of the agreement at that time, however was quite agreeable to himself to the amendments that are in the Woodward bill now. Now this act of ours has been drawn by the attorney of the Compensation Board, Mr. Bohlen, and as you people know, it has been on the floor here for some time and nothing was done with it. For harmony's sake we left that go. I had a conference with the Governor and tried to get him to make the Compensation Board come clean with us. Instead of that Mr. Mackey sent out the information that we all got, pointing out that he had nothing to do with the bill. We stood for all of that and keep quiet. Now the bill comes on the calendar after weeks spent here in trying to get it out of the House committee. For weeks and weeks it was in the committee. It has for the last three days been Bill No. 17, lying here on the third reading calendar and we have had no third reading bills for the last few days. They picked out Senate bills and you have been acting on Senate bills when we knew next week we would have lots of time to pass of Senate bills. The gentlemen over there have been picking a bill out here and there and we agreed to go along with them. We left that go. Now we have been reasonable, believing that you, in a spirit of fairness, would say the Compensation bill will get a chance before this House. Now if you will make a special order of these amendments, I will agree to go along with your special order, if you have this resolution amended to read that we will make a special order of business for the Woodward bill next Monday night at 9.30 o'clock. Let that be the only special order, and I will go along with your resolution,—that is all I am asking for,—and when these amendments come before you I can show you what it will cost the State and what it will cost the employees if they carry it.

I have the information at hand to explain all there is to that bill; so has Mr. Woodward, the sponsor of the bill. There is nothing about the bill, and nothing to be afraid of about it. No one here should be afraid of it. Don't say, we can't get it through the Senate, if we pass it here Monday night. We can first pass it and then see to it in the Senate. I hope that Mr. Ramsey will amend his resolution and make this exception with this one bill, so that this bill may be made a special order on Monday night at 9.30. This bill is the Compensation Bill, No. 1187. If that is done, you will have the support here, at least so far as I am concerned.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment to the resolution.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend by including the placing of House Bill No. 1187 and making it a special order for Monday, June 25th, 1917, at 9.30 P. M.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I went back to the rear of the hall and stated to Mr. Fowler that I had no objections personally and would assist in bringing, if possible, House Bill No. 1187 on the floor of the House Monday night, if this resolution were passed.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Delaware means what he has said, why doesn't he include it in his resolution now? It is only a fair proposition.

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not understand the gentleman from Delaware as opposing the amendment.

Mr. REYNOLDS. If that is his intention, why doesn't he say very frankly, Mr. Speaker, that he will include that in his resolution and make it a special order for 10 o'clock Monday night? Why doesn't he say that?

The SPEAKER. The Chair perhaps at this time owes an explanation to the House relative to this resolution. The Chair prepared that resolution with the one thought, namely, that the House, if it meets next Monday evening without providing a calendar, will waste every moment of its time that it spends on legislation that cannot possibly be passed. This suggestion was made by the Chair. Of course, the resolution was the work of the Chair, and is now subject to amendment by the House. It was not the thought of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Ramsey, but the thought of the Chair, and the Chair realizes that it may not probably include the thought of all the other members of the House. Other members can put into this resolution, with the approval of the majority of those present, any amendments that they may see fit.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution as amended?

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask leave to further amend the resolution, if given a moment's time, by adding the Small Council Bill from Philadelphia, House Bill No. 1421.

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman desires to further amend the resolution, the House will allow him time to prepare the amendment. It appears to the Chair that the bill is not on the calendar, and that the amendment is therefore out of order. It appears to the Chair that the Small Council Bill has been defeated. The Chair would like to inquire of the Clerks whether or not this is the case.

The CLERK. The bill was defeated yesterday.

The SPEAKER. The amendment is therefore out of order.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I beg to differ with the ruling at this time that the Small Council Bill was defeated. I moved that a special order be made of this bill for Monday evening, and it was that motion that was defeated.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been misinformed with reference to the bill, and withdraws his decision. The Clerk will read the amendment offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Beyer.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend resolution by including in the order of business for Monday night, June 25th, 1917, House Bill No. 1421.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, this question was voted on last night, and the House by a very decisive vote refused to make this bill a special order. They recognized that if they did make it a special order that the time of the session would be consumed by a discussion that might better be used in facilitating the business of this House. Now I want to say to the men who are interested in this amendment making a question that is State wide in its interest to the people, a special order, if they vote favorably on this amendment they will endanger the entire program. This is simply a trick played to make a motion as originally put together with its amendment a vehicle to bring before this House a question that will be threshed out at great length in the Philadelphia delegation.

As I have said repeatedly, you men from outside of Philadelphia are tired of the bickerings within our ranks and I am going to ask you to give us a rest in the closing days of the session by voting the amendment of Mr. Beyer down.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I voted for the amendment that was first proposed to this resolution to place House Bill No. 1187 before this body on Monday night so as to give a fair chance, in the interest of fair play, after I heard my friend from Lackawanna and my friend from Berks speak on the question. Now, it seems to me that it is nothing more than turn about and fair play to give us citizens in Philadelphia who are interested in the Small Council Bill an opportunity to have that bill before the House. I don't have to apologize for anybody but my friend from Philadelphia does not have the right to say that it was a trick to put the first amendment in so that we could get the second amendment in. The only thought was, that as fair play was granted to members from another section, we wanted them to come around and give us our amendment and expected that they would vote with us on our amendment.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I want to make this explanation to the members of this House at this time. I believe that the two great questions that have been bothering this House to-day have been the Full Crew Repealer During the War and House Bill No. 1187, the Compensation Amendments. Those two are the two great questions which I began to see would interfere with the genuine sociability of this House during the closing sessions of this Legislature and when I offered the amendments to bring the Senate bills forward I did so, of course, after it had been prepared by the Speaker of the House, but I did it because it is in accord with what has been done in every session of the General Assembly since I have been a member and in that I knew that the men who opposed the Full Crew Repealer or the Senate Bill No. 1033 and stood in favor of the Compensation Bill, House Bill No. 1187, would want to couple in there something for them; and I believe I want to say this and say it honestly, that these two measures, it seems to me, are the only important ones that ought to be considered under special order and I hope that this House will pass this resolution and give to the members of this House a right to vote upon the Full Crew Repealer and the Compensation Amendments, House Bill No. 1187.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Beyer. Last evening on a roll call it was decided against putting this bill on a special order. Now, in order to bring that matter before the House—

The SPEAKER. The Chair still don't understand the point of order he is asked to decide.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, just let me go ahead and I will state it in a minute. I must include what happened last night in order to state the point intelligently.

The SPEAKER. I think the gentleman realizes that he cannot make a speech on a point of order.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I am not; I am only telling you what happened in this House on a roll call and then—

The SPEAKER. The Chair will rule that that is not a point of order.

Mr. REYNOLDS. —in order to make an amendment of this kind that the gentleman from Philadelphia has offered you must first recall that roll call that was made last night because you cannot offer—

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules the point of order not well taken.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I want to say just one word with reference to the amendment offered to the resolution from the Rules Committee. I was perfectly satisfied to vote for the amendment offered to that resolution on the floor of this House by Mr. Fowler and I did so upon the principle that there are a few bills upon this calendar that are highly important to the respective districts of the State from which the members come who offered those bills and in equal justice to every man those bills ought to have a hearing.

In reference to the remark made by my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, who said we are going to consume a great deal of time on Monday night of this Small Council Bill is brought up for debate I want to promise you now, as a member of the House, that I am perfectly satisfied to leave this bill to every member to read for himself, without a single word of comment from me unless interrogated and asked to explain it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to state to the House the fact that if these amendments are attached to this resolution, that the Appropriation bills, the Revenue bills and all Senate bills will precede these bills in the formation of the calendar.

The Chair is mistaken, as the first amendment fixed an hour. It would not precede that amendment. So far as this amendment is concerned it will not change the situation of the bill in the least.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I understood from the remarks of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Ramsey, that after precedence has been given to those various bills just mentioned, that we then took up House business. Am I correct?

The SPEAKER. No. The Chair would like to state to the gentleman from Philadelphia that if we were to complete the calendar we would then proceed on House bills, but that practically means the elimination of House bills.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, then I move to amend by making a special order—

The SPEAKER. The only thing to do is for the gentleman from Philadelphia to rewrite his amendment.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I now offer the following amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Mr. Beyer moves that House Bill No. 1421 be included in the order of business for Monday night, June 25, 1917, as a special order on third reading, on Monday, June 25, 1917 at 10:00 P. M.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, when on the floor before I made a statement relative to this bill being hurried through and I did characterize it as a trick. Now I want to say to the Speaker and to all concerned that I was informed that Mr. Beyer was through with this bill, that he did not propose to attach it to the resolution presented by the Chairman of the Rules Committee—

The SPEAKER. I am afraid the gentleman from Philadelphia is not confining himself to the question.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I am. I am answering the criticism of my friend from Philadelphia.

Now, again I ask you men not to vote for this resolution to make this bill a special order that you refused to vote for last night because if you do you will simply consume time in a useless discussion, and you men have put yourselves on record as considering bills that are of a State-wide importance and why at a question before this House that is purely local in its character. It is all right enough and high-sounding for the gentleman to say, "We, in our generosity, voted to give an opportunity to pass upon the Workmen's Compensation Act and another act," and then ask you in turn to put yourself in a position of interfering with legislation that is of import by calling up this Small Council Bill. You showed your disposition last night and put off further discussion and dissension that have existed in this delegation from Philadelphia since the beginning of this session. I ask you men not to recede from your position taken last night but to vote this resolution on the Small Council Bill down.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I know of no dissension in the Philadelphia delegation except what may exist in a political nature. I think we are all as good comrades as exist in any other district in this Commonwealth. I had no thought of renewing this motion, because I realized that after the action which was taken last night that there was not any possible chance of this bill being reached, being down 197 on the calendar. I had abandoned any idea of doing it, but it looks to me that another gentleman may rise in place and ask that this resolution be amended to give other bills a chance and I am here only doing justice to the Philadelphia men who are behind this bill.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, throughout this session when Philadelphia's matters were under discussion we refrained from entering into any discussion concerning them insofar as they were purely local in character. Again, gentlemen came before us and asked us not to interfere with them because these were purely local issues and that we should give support to matters that are State-wide. But I disagree with them; this is a matter that is State-wide. You know that in recent years the City of Philadelphia has been the original source, the fountain-head of evil and corruption in the State of Pennsylvania. This is an opportunity afforded in the closing days of this session to redeem a pledge that has been made to the people of the City of Philadelphia and in doing that, in giving Philadelphia a small council such as we have in Pittsburgh, in Allegheny County, you will have accomplished something that will redound to the credit of this House and confer a great boon on the people of this Commonwealth. I sincerely hope that you will make this matter a special order of business for Monday night and act favorably upon it.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, you may remember a few days ago when I gave myself the privilege of addressing this House I confessed to being a sinner. You remember the parable of the sinner, the publican who came on the hill to pray. I am glad to discover in the ranks of the Allegheny delegation a Godly Publican who has come on the hill to pray. Now it is entirely natural as a play commences so should it finish. This Legislature started as a farce and I notice that the gentleman from Allegheny and some from Philadelphia are intending to wind it up as a farce. The champions of the people, the reformers, are the city builders of Philadelphia, who have spoken here as representing the citizenship of Philadelphia and tell you that they want a Small Council in Philadelphia. They have been prospering as no other city of the United States under their present councils and why this sudden disposition to become reformers. When a small boy I loved to see a pig under the fence and hear it squeal, but they have a lot of men come up here at this time and cry out because this bill was defeated last night—

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman kindly wait until I have finished. The gentleman must understand that if I understand this question that I have no particular reference to any other question. I have a right to resent the statement made by the gentleman from Pittsburgh when he said that Philadelphia is a black spot and that it is a dirty spot in the civic life of Pennsylvania. The shots that do the damage are not fired from the spot on which they land and so it is in this case. Whenever there is any rottenness in any part of this State the shot is usually fired and reflected in another part of the State. Pittsburgh and Philadelphia are at the extreme ends of Pennsylvania and the citizens of Philadelphia don't want these small council bills. Some of the men may want them but others do not and those who are out now want to look in and in two years from now if they were in they would want them repealed. A majority of the people and citizens don't want these bills and as a matter of courtesy, as a matter of consistency, we should vote down this motion.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I want to remind the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder, that possibly this happened before he took an active interest in politics that the members of the Legislature from Philadelphia gave to the City of Pittsburgh, much against their wishes, a Small Council, which we now have, but the citizens of the City of Pittsburgh are glad that they have it and they take this belated opportunity to thank the members from Philadelphia and it is my prediction that if you could be given this Small Council you would want to have it.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, if he will take the trouble to read the bill that the gentleman from Allegheny is so enthusiastically in favor of he will find that the bill in its terms provides that it is inefficient and says Philadelphia can exist for some months yet to come. There is no reason for providing the special order of business for that bill itself, as it is not necessary, because it will have to all be changed again when the next census comes out. I want to refute the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny when he speaks of the City of Philadelphia as being a fountain-head of corruption.

This Legislature gave the City of Pittsburgh a Small Council after more than a score of Pittsburgh councilmen went to jail for corruption. Why should he come in here and tell us that the City of Philadelphia is more contaminated, when the act was forced on him because of the rascality and corruption of his own people.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the resolution offered by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Ramsey, and the amendments thereto be laid upon the table.

Mr. CUMMINS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn.

Mr. HOWARTH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Whereupon (at 4.58 P. M.) the Chair declared the House stands adjourned until Monday evening, June 25, 1917, at 9.00 o'clock.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 543.

He also laid before the Senate communicating in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, filed with the Chief Clerk during the interim, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 22, 1917.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval Senate Bill No. 543, entitled "An Act defining cold storage and regulating time of storage of certain articles of food and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act."

This bill is generally known as the "Cold Storage Bill." It changes the provisions of the Act of May 16, 1913 (P. L. 216) as amended by act of July 7, 1913 (P. L. 689) in certain essentials, particularly with reference to temperature in storage warehouses, with reference to licenses for each separate building, with reference to the requirement for quarterly reports to the Dairy and Food Department, with reference to the time that food products may be stored, with reference to the working of containers and with reference to penalties and the uncertainty of data for conviction of fraud if attempted.

Many communications have reached me concerning this bill. I have read carefully above two hundred such items. Many pray that the bill be approved and many pray with equal earnestness that the bill be disapproved. The former group is made up of firms or individuals in the trade and bodies of citizens interested, such as Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade and Banks. Those opposed are chemists, administrators of food laws, civic associations and citizens at large. To decide between these is perplexing and difficult. The one group is thinking entirely of the business processes incident to cold storage; the other, of the quantity of food furnished the consumer and the possible injustice to the people at large were the provisions of this bill to become operative.

The extension of the period of storage from three to ten months as now provided is extended upon all foods stored to twelve months, which might in the judgment of some add to the possibility of manipulating food prices for speculative purposes. This if true, would work to the detriment of the consuming public. I am not convinced that this alone should cause the disapproval of the bill.

The present law requires all foods kept at or below 40 degrees Fahrenheit to be classed as cold storage foods. This bill reduces the temperature to 34 degrees Fahrenheit for cold storage foods. Thus all foods kept at say 35 degrees or 37 degrees would not be classed as cold storage products. Eggs are seldom kept at 34 degrees. They are usually kept at 39 degrees. Under this bill no eggs would be classed as cold storage eggs and of course would be known in the trade as fresh eggs regardless of the time they may have been in storage. Any storage plant that would keep its temperature above 34 degrees would not be within the provisions of this bill and could keep food indefinitely without being subject to the provisions of this bill. There are many such storage places. There are few that maintain as low a temperature as 34 degrees. There would thus arise three types of foods—fresh foods, cold storage foods and foods stored indefinitely in containers having a temperature above 34 degrees and not subject to legal regulation. This to my mind is fatal to the purpose of food laws, which purpose is to protect the consuming public. The limit fixed in this bill is too low. All chemists writing me so declare. It opens the way for palpable deception of the public and for disposing of foods too long stored for the health of the consumer.

Under existing law quarterly reports are required of all storage warehouses, setting forth definite data as to age and quantity of contents. This is vital data for the Department and for the public. This bill requires no reports and gives no one the necessary data to ascertain the quantity of food at any given time in storage in Pennsylvania. Recently, where food prices soared and the public press indicated that there was a combination formed to corner the market, our Department in half a day published broadcast the quantity of food in storage in Pennsylvania. This was of great value. It could not be done under this bill. No staff of agents, unless made so large as to be excessively costly on the people, could gather in a month what is now at no expense regularly filed here four times each year.

The specific language of the bill implies that articles of food not intended for human consumption may be stored with foods that are for human consumption. Thus presumably foods unfit for human beings may be stored with foods for human beings. The effect of this is manifest and is not in the interest of the people dependent upon this stored food.

In section six the prohibition of storing diseased, tainted or otherwise unfit human food is contingent upon the word "knowingly." The prohibition of keeping food in a condition that it is not fit for human consumption is again contingent upon the word "knowingly." Of course, upon attempted enforcement of the law the burden of proof would rest upon the prosecutor and he would be obliged to prove not that the food is diseased, tainted or unfit, but he would be obliged to prove that it was so kept "knowingly" by the storing agency. Conviction could not follow. The protection of the people from bad food would be removed. The enforcement of pure food law would be impossible.

The whole question of food storage is one for national action, that it may be uniform. The argument that other states have less rigid pure food regulations is not so much a reason for our lessening the standards here as it is a reason for increasing the standards elsewhere. It is our solemn duty to keep the people in health. The penalties of present law are so much lessened in this bill that the safeguards of the public now set up would be made less restraining and in the end the health of the public would pay the penalty.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 784.

He also laid before the Senate communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, filed with the Chief Clerk during the interim, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 22, 1917.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith without my approval, Senate Bill No. 784, entitled, "An Act authorizing the Superintendent of Public Instruction to appoint one clerk who shall be an expert stenographer and four stenographers and fixing their salaries."

This bill increases the salaries of five members of the Department of Public Instruction and does not take into consideration other stenographers in the same Department whose salaries are much less than that now paid to these stenographers. There is no equity in the provisions of the Bill. It is concurrently necessary to deny many other salary increases for the same reason. The Assembly has not enacted revenue producing measures adequate to the expenses the Assembly authorizes. To deny some and grant others is manifestly unfair and unwise.

To increase the cost of stenographic service in a part of a Department and not in all of its divisions or to increase the cost in one Department and deny it in another is not just. Since the public funds do not warrant general increases and because the unexpected drains upon the Treasury at this time, due to the war situation it is regrettably necessary to withhold approval of these special cases.

For these reasons this Bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

He also laid before the Senate communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, filed with the Clerk during the interim, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 22, 1917.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval Senate Bill No. 666, entitled "An Act to amend an act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen entitled 'An Act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs.'"

This Bill amends the Act of May 14, 1915 (P. L. 312), generally known as the Borough Code, with respect to the articles relating to Borough auditors and Borough controllers.

It provides that on appeal from borough auditors the matter may be investigated de novo instead of being limited to the items or matter excepted to. It further provides that the burden of establishing credits shall always be on the officer claiming the credits. The reverse is now the law. It further provides that the officer whose accounts are excepted to must establish his case by evidence from original sources while the exceptant may offer as prima facie evidence any facts figures or findings for the report.

The Borough Code of 1915 was most carefully drawn by the attorneys of the Boroughs and the legal departments here and is a complete and consistent body of law which should have free and full trial before amendment.

For these reasons this Bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 850.

He also laid before the Senate communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, filed with the Chief Clerk during the interim, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 22, 1917.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 850, entitled "An Act to further amend an act approved the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled 'An Act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner two Deputy State Highway Commissioners chief engineer chief draughtsman superintendent of highways and a staff of assistants and employees defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department and fixing salaries of commissioner and deputies and other appointees providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats principal cities and towns and extending to the State line describing and defining same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth providing for the improvement maintenance and repair of said State highways

This bill amends the Act of May 31, 1911 (P. L. 468) by increasing certain salaries in the Department of Highways as follows:

Superintendents of Highways from $1500 to $2000.

Auditor of Highway from $3000 to $4000.

Assistant Engineer of Highways from $2400 to $3000.

The effect is to increase the overhead charges in this Department by $35,000 per annum.

There is no dearth of applicants from which to select men at the present salaries and so far as I know the cost of the department ought not at this time be so greatly increased. The money appropriated ought in the largest way be put into maintenance and construction of good roads. For better roads the demand is insistent and state wide. For increased salaries and lessened road service the demand is unheard. Inasmuch as it is impossible with the money given by the Assembly to pay all the increases approved by the Assembly it is my imperative duty to deny these increases.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 1089.

He also laid before the Senate communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, filed with the Chief Clerk during the interim, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 22, 1917.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval Senate Bill No. 1089, entitled "An Act to amend an act approved the second day of July one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five entitled 'An Act to amend an act entitled 'An Act to carry into effect section five of article fourteen of the Constitution relative to the salaries of county officers and the payment of fees received by them into the State or county treasury in counties containing over one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants,' approved thirty-first March one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six providing for assistant district attorneys and fixing the salary of the same and increasing the salary of county solicitor clerk of the courts recorder of deeds register of wills and treasurer county prison warden or jailor county commissioners controllers coroners county directors of the poor jury commissioners and county detective and decreasing the salaries of auditors and county surveyor' by fixing the salary of county prison wardens."

This bill amends the Act of July 2, 1895 (P. L. 424), fixing salaries in counties having over 150,000 and less than 250,000 inhabitants by increasing the salaries of county prison wardens in such counties from $2000 to $2500. Recently there was approved a bill relating to county commissioners largely because it contained a rational basis of classification for counties. This bill is one of many that sets up an arbitrary classification with no foundation in reason and solely to increase salaries of persons unknown to me. No reason is given for the increase. No one openly has taken time to give such data as one should have to act intelligently. There is no evidence of the need of the bill and abundant reasons for lessening not increasing arbitrary classifications of counties for no public good but apparently for private advantage.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 242.

He also laid before the Senate communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, filed with the Chief Clerk during the interim, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 22, 1917.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 242, entitled "An Act amending an act approved the ninth day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one entitled 'An Act to authorize foreign corporations to become corporations of Pennsylvania and to prescribe the mode for their so doing' by regulating the manner and place of acknowledging and recording the certificate therein provided for crediting such domesticated corporation with bonus previously paid by it to the Commonwealth and extending the provisions thereof to corporations incorporated under the several supplements to the act approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four entitled 'An Act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations.'"

This Bill amends the act of June 9, 1881 (P. L. 89) relating to foreign corporations becoming corporations in Pennsylvania as follows:

(1) It permits certificates to be acknowledged before any person having authority to take acknowledgments instead of the Recorder of Deeds as now.

(2) Provides that the certificate be recorded in the county of the corporation's principal business instead of the place or county where the chief operations are carried on.

(3) Makes the provisions applicable to the Act of April 29, 1874 or its supplements.

(4) Makes credit for all bonus money before paid by the original corporation upon the amount of its capital employed in this Commonwealth.

All of these provisions are of doubtful wisdom. They are manifestly more attractive to foreign corporations than to the people of this Commonwealth. Particularly the credit of a bonus is a definite loss in revenue to this Commonwealth. There is no material difference now between the tax of 5 mills on foreign corporations and the bonus imposed by the act of 1901. There is no more reason for a credit on the bonus than there would be for a credit on the annual tax. The title is misleading. It would seem to apply to new corporations created in Pennsylvania under the Supplements to the act of April 29, 1874 whereas the body of the bill really applies to foreign corporations which under the act cited and its supplements seek to become domesticated.

The urgent need of revenue for the necessary business of this Commonwealth has not met with the response in the Assembly that its importance demands. This Bill would further and in no advantageous way to the people lessen the revenue of the Commonwealth, increase the burden of taxation upon the people and give gratuities to corporations now most considerably considered.

For these reasons this Bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 615.

He also laid before the Senate communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, filed with the Chief Clerk during the interim, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 22, 1917.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith without my approval, Senate Bill No. 615, entitled "An Act to amend sections four and five of an act approved the second day of April one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight entitled 'An Act to ascertain and appoint the fees to be received by the several officers of this Commonwealth.'"

This bill amends sections four and five of the act of April second, 1868 (P. L. 7) regulating the fees of clerks of courts of Quarter Sessions. There are at least fifty items in this bill for which fees are proposed that are not now enumerated in the laws governing in such cases. Moreover, this bill increases in about twenty items the amount of fees allowed by law. In most cases the increase is 100 per cent. The effect on the whole is greatly to increase the cost of service in the offices of these courts. Inasmuch as most of the costs in such cases is paid by the counties interested, it would very materially increase the expenses to these counties. In the largest judicial counties the responsible officials object to this added expense. It is inopportune to ask that these fees be so greatly increased. There is no lack of willing clerks for these places and the compensation now is fully up to the average for such qualified service. There is no evidence of hardship to the clerks and no evidence of increased service to the community.

For these reasons this Bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

He also laid before the Senate communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, filed with the Chief Clerk during the interim, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 22, 1917.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith without my approval, Senate Bill No. 323, entitled "An Act making an appropriation to The Pennsylvania State College."

This bill make an emergency appropriation to State College to assist in meeting the extraordinary needs of agriculture in the present emergency. The bill was introduced February 26, 1917. It is certified to me under date of June 13, and the emergency equality is wholly lost in the delay in its passage. The emergency was manifest in the dominant planting season. Since then the National Government has taken up this work and the State Committee of Public Safety has with State College gladly co-operated. The general appropriation to State College will soon be available and the necessity of this emergency fund thus disappears with no embarrassment whatever to the State College. Had this bill reached me early in the season it would have been approved. Its delay has removed its necessity.

For these reasons this Bill is not approved.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. President. I move that Senate Bill No. 1213 (House Bill No. 1023), on third reading, entitled

An Act making it a misdemeanor for any person under twenty-one years of age to procure or attempt to procure intoxicating liquors.

be recommitted to the Committee on New Counties and County Seats.

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Tompkins.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Tompkins, allow himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I would like to have the reason for moving to recommit this bill.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. President, on this side we do not know anything about it.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I would not credit any member on that side of the House with not knowing what this bill means, because it is self-explanatory. I trust that the Senate will proceed to the consideration of it on account of the lateness in the session. If the members do not think it is a proper bill, the time to vote against it is now.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1213 (House Bill No. 1023), entitled

An Act making it a misdemeanor for any person under twenty-one years of age to procure or attempt to procure intoxicating liquors

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President, I trust that this bill will be voted down unanimously. It seems surprising that such a bill should be sent to this body for consideration. The only purpose that it could have is to protect the person who is entrusted with a license to sell to minors, and to close their mouths in case of prosecution. This bill, if it passes, would make it impossible to convict an unscrupulous man who is entrusted with a license, because the mouths of these young men will be closed, and if they give this evidence that they otherwise cannot give, under this bill, they would be subject to prosecution and be fined in the criminal courts. If you pass this bill the only person that can be benefited is the person who intentionally wants to violate our liquor laws, and it would be an additional argument in their favor. The honest liquor man does not want a law like this, it is only the men who violate the liquor laws who gain anything by closing the mouths of these young men. I trust this body will vote against the bill unanimously, it is pernicious.

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1656 (House Bill No. 1320), on third reading, entitled

"An Act to repeal an act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven entitled 'An Act to tax traction engines and providing that the same shall be assessed by the several assessors of the counties of this Commonwealth in the same manner as other articles of personal estate liable for taxation are assessed.'" be recommitted to the Committee on Public Roads and Highways.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I hope the Senate will not recommit this bill. In regard to this bill, as the sponsor informed me this afternoon here in the Senate, we now pay a tax of ten dollars on each traction engine and for inspection eight to ten dollars a year, as well as a personal tax and a liability tax and they ask that this bill be passed for the purpose of striking off the personal tax which is only a dollar and a half a year, after they collect the other three taxes.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, my purpose in recommending this bill is that being a user of traction engines and knowing the damages done to the roads and knowing how small an amount of money they are paying in comparison with the amount necessary to repair the road, I think we had better leave well enough alone. I do not think it is fair to the people and certainly this bill is not unfair to the users of tractors. That is my purpose and I think the Senator is familiar enough with the matter and I know whatever he is paying in that line he does not consider he is paying too much money.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, this bill was reported from the Finance Committee because it is not the main license tax upon traction engines at all. It has nothing to do with the road department; it is simply a personal property tax which is levied upon traction engines in certain counties. All the counties do not collect it. It is desired very much by the threshers' organization and other organizations of farmers; it is rather an aggravating tax than a protective tax and after considering the bill we thought it was a good bill and it was reported out, and I still think it is a very good bill and should be passed.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I think it is very unfair to tax traction engines as personal property and not the large automobiles. It is my experience that the large automobile does just as much damage to the road as traction engines. They go on the roads very infrequently as compared to the automobile and to tax them as personal property and not the automobile is unfair and I do not think the bill should be recommitted.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I would like to say that my information as to the revenue that will be deducted from the passage of this bill would be considerable. I want to call the attention of the Senate to that fact.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, not to prolong the discussion, it is not a State tax at all, it is a personal property tax which is levied in certain counties. Very few of the counties collect it. I do not suppose there is any county in the State where it would make a difference of two hundred and fifty dollars.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT SENATE BILL NO. 1740.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1740, on third reading, entitled

An Act for the examination qualification and election of mine inspectors in the anthracite coal region providing for the appointment of Mine Inspectors' Examining Boards by the courts of common pleas of certain counties and defining the powers and duties of such boards and fixing the compensation of its members and fixing the salary of mine inspectors.

be recommitted to the Committee on Mines and Mining.

Mr. McKEE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, it does not seem to me at this late hour that this is the proper way to treat a measure as important as this bill is. We deem this bill of considerable importance in the bituminous mining section, and the majority of inspectors and those interested are in favor of such a measure. If the bill goes back to committee of course that means that it does not pass the Senate. I do not see any harm done if this bill is permitted to at least pass the Senate.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Potter, Mr. Baldwin.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Potter, Mr. Baldwin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, in section 12 of this bill after a man has been elected a second time to office it perpetuates the office. Is that correct?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I understand under this bill that after one had taken the examination at two different times he is not required thereafter to be examined and the same reasoning would require that a physician or an attorney or a school teacher after they have taken one examination after another, there ought to be some limit to the number of examinations they should be required to take and we think men who are competent enough to pass two examinations of this kind have shown that they are qualified to hold the position.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, I want to read section 12 for the benefit of the members present. "Any person who has passed two regular examinations for the office of mine inspector and has been twice elected to said office shall be exempt from further examination and election and shall continue in said office unless suspended or removed." The Senator did not answer my question. I claim that this section does perpetuate the office after he has been elected a second time. Therefore I believe it is a bad bill and I hope the motion will prevail.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

O God, our Father, we come now at the close of this day to Thy feet with our evening sacrifice. Wilt Thou accept us and our worship, and grant to us all, as a legislative body, its officers and employees, Thy mercy and providential care. Pity our weakness and teach us how to grow strong, yea, may we receive Thy strength to make us strong for every task and conflict. We pray for those who must endure sore temptations that Thou wilt keep them from falling. If we have discouraged others by word, act or example, making life heavier for them, we plead forgiveness, and may we be enabled so to live that our lives shall be a constant help and inspiration to others. Give us grace to live sweetly and beautifully, glorifying Thee and blessing every life that our lives touch, and save us. Amen.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO THE AMERICAN RED CROSS ASSOCIATION.

Mr. C. A. SHAFFER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to.

In the House of Representatives, June 25, 1917.

Whereas, There has been created under the laws of the District of Columbia a volunteer organization known as the American Purple Cross Association, and

Whereas, The said organization has offered to recruit, enlist and specially train units of expert embalmers to be enlisted in the medical department of the United States Army, and

Whereas, We have seventy-five thousand expert embalmers now engaged in the United States rendering the House of the Dead as free from the germs of contagious diseases as the meeting room of the College of Physicians, and

Whereas, This has now become an acknowledged fact and admitted by sanitary experts and men of high standing in the medical profession, then what is said of the house of the dead may be brought about on the field of battle, and

Whereas, It has offered to furnish at its own expense at least one ambulance for each unit so organized, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the Secretary of War and the Surgeon General of the Army be requested to accept the said offer of the American Purple Cross Association, so far, at least, as it may apply to the troops enlisted in or furnished by the State of Pennsylvania in order that the health of the living may be conserved and that the bodies of our soldier dead eventually may be returned to their home burial grounds in a sanitary and recognizable condition, and the Secretary of the Commonwealth be requested to forward a copy of this resolution to the Secretary of War of the United States and to the United States Senators and members of Congress from Pennsylvania.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 621.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 23, 1917.
To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval House Bill No. 621 entitled "An Act to amend section four of an act approved the seventeenth day of April one thousand nine hundred thirteen entitled 'An Act for the better protection of wild birds and game within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania requiring citizens of the United States residing within this State to procure a license before using guns for the purpose of hunting for any wild birds or animals protected by the laws of this Commonwealth and providing penalties for violation of its several provisions and the manner of proceeding to enforce compliance therewith and providing for the disposition of the license fees fines and penalties received.'"

This bill amends Sec. 4 of the Act of April 17, 1915 (P. L. 85) by directing that the forms supplied by the Board of Game Commissioners for use in paying licenses shall be made up in books or pads containing fifty forms each. There is no law now defining the form in which these license blanks are to be issued and no law is necessary. Some years ago the blanks were issued in pads of fifty and many Justices of the Peace did not use a full pad. Thus the Serial order of the licenses was lost sight of. Then they were and now are issued in pads or books of 250 each to the County Commissioners, who in turn send them to the Justices. It may be that pads of twenty-five would be quite as convenient. The whole thing is too unimportant to be made a subject of legislation. It is purely an administrative detail and the Game Commission will see to it that the matter is so arranged as to avoid waste, minimize cost and secure satisfactory service.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question.

Shall the bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Bill, together with the veto be laid upon the table.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1600.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 23, 1917.
To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval House Bill No. 1600, entitled "An Act making an appropriation to refund to Washington Hall Association of Mount Carmel Northumberland County Pennsylvania a certain sum erroneously paid into the State Treasury as Capital Stock Tax."

This bill appropriates $320.79 to Washington Hall Association of Mount Carmel as reimbursement for money alleged to have been paid erroneously into the State Treasury.

The proper legal agency to determine whether or not such monies are payable or whether monies have been erroneously charged against a corporation is the Board of Public Accounts. The Legislature is not in possession of proper data to warrant this action. The law has designated the orderly way to be followed and it should be observed. If upon proper evidence before this board the claim is duly established payment will follow by due process of law."

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question.

Shall the bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Bill, together with the veto be laid upon the table.

Mr. CLEMENTS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1121.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 23, 1917.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I return herewith, without my approval House Bill No. 1121, entitled "An Act to amend section fourteen hundred and twelve of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven entitled 'An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith' as amended."

This bill amends section 1412 of the School Code as amended by act of May 9, 1913 (P. L. 192) by providing that school directors of any school district in which an orphan asylum is located, when unable "after every reasonable effort has been made," to collect the cost of tuition of such orphans from the school district of their legal residence, then and in that case the State Superintendent shall pay to the district in which the child is being educated the cost of tuition and charge the said sum to the school district of the child's legal residence. It gives the State Board of Education power to determine legal residence finally when disputes arise.

Much confusion would ensue and a burden of duties not germane to his office would fall upon the State Superintendent, who now upon submitted evidence of the failure of a school district to pay such cost of tuition may and should withhold the state appropriation to such school district.

Suit against such defaulting school district will secure the money under existing law and since "every reasonable effort" has not been made until suit is brought the matter would be resolved by the courts before any action could be taken under this bill to enforce payment of such tuition.

The Courts and not an administration Board constitutes this forum to determine the child's residence, and in this respect this bill is unconstitutional.

While payment of this form of tuition is a difficult matter and where local authorities fail to apply to the courts for enforced payment hardship may fall upon the school district in which such children are educated, this bill only further complicates this situation and will not bring the relief prayed for.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. URICH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Bill, together with the veto be laid on the table.

Mr. WEIMER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RULE NO. 43 SUSPENDED.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that rule 43 be suspended for the specific purpose of considering at this time out of order Senate Bill No. 1033, File Folio of the Senate 4305, on page 18 of to-day's calendar.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the title of the bill. The Clerk then read the title as follows:

A Supplement to an act entitled "An Act to promote the safety of travelers and employes upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to properly man their trains" approved the nineteenth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven and providing that the provisions of said act shall not be in force during the time the government of the United States is engaged in war with a foreign government or power and for a period of one month after the close of such war.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BLACK. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is the notorious full crew measure, and I ask the indulgence of the House while I read to the members of the House the following letter which was forwarded to John A. Phillips, secretary of the Central Labor Union of Philadelphia.

Mr. John A. Phillips, Secretary,

Central Labor Union, 131 North 15th Street,
Philadelphia Pa.

Dear Sir and Brother:

The Pennsylvania State Senate has passed the Full-Crew Law Repealer, and information comes to me that the House of Representatives will immediately take the matter up for action.

As an officer of your Central Body, I urge that you immediately call together your brother officers and frame a strong protest against the concurrence of the House in the repeal of the Full-Crew Law. Action must be taken at once to be effective. There is no national emergency that requires the repeal of the Full-Crew Law of Pennsylvania.

The Council of National Defense has adopted as a fundamental principle that should an emergency arise requiring any change in our present legislation, affecting labor conditions, that it would so advise the Governors of the various states. The Council of National Defense has urged upon the legislatures of the several states that before final adjournment they delegate to the Governors of their respective states the power to suspend or modify restrictions contained in their labor laws when such suspension or modification shall be requested by the Council of National Defense; and that such suspensions or modifications, when made, shall continue for a specified period and not longer than the duration of the war.

In addition to this statement, the Council of National Defense has emphatically declared:

"When economic or other emergencies arise requiring changes of standards, the same should be made only after such proposed changes have been investigated and approved by the Council of National Defense."

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen will state his point of order.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the gentleman is discussing the merits of the bill and not the motion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the gentleman from Dauphin is within his parliamentary rights. The gentleman from Dauphin will proceed.

Mr. BLACK. The rest of the letter is as follows:

"The Council of National Defense has not advised the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania nor the Legislature that an emergency has arisen whereby it becomes necessary to repeal the Full-Crew Law. Therefore, the State Senate has not only acted contrary to the desires and established policy of the Council of National Defense, but also in defiance of it."

This letter is signed by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. Now, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Gompers has associated with him as chairman of the Labor Committee on the National Defense Council, men of the character as John D. Rockefeller and Samuel A. Guggenheimer. I would also like to read just a little squib, the report of Chairman Giffin in this evening's paper.

"General acceptance by labor and capital of the suggestion of the council that existing labor standards should not be changed until the need of such action had been determined by the council with the steady influence on industry growing out of such action."

Now, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I sincerely trust that you will not make this bill a special order. I heard Alva Johnson in his defense of this law before the Senate Committee say that he wondered what the moral effect was on this man who sat in his cabin doing nothing. I ask you to think what the moral impression will be upon these men when they know that you have acted—if you so do—in absolute defiance of the Council of National Defense, and, Mr. Speaker, I offer the following motion:

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the motion.

The Clerk read the motion as follows:

Moved by Mr. Black of Dauphin, seconded by Mr. Canon of Mercer, that the motion to make a special order of Senate Bill No. 1033, File Folio 4305, on page 18 of to-day's calendar be laid on the table.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the motion just made by the gentleman from Dauphin is to lay upon the table a special order. I have made no special order, I made a request for a suspension of a rule.

The SPEAKER. The point of order of the gentleman from Delaware is sustained, and the motion is out of order.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to suspend the rule?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I hope that this motion of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Ramsey, will not prevail. If this House is going to go on record as favoring that motion, it will certainly not do itself proud. I do not believe that any of you will stand for a motion of that kind. There is no use trying to fool ourselves, and if this motion should prevail it will be a mighty raw deal for this House to deliberately turn around and make this a special order after they have turned down special orders for other things,—to take up the full crew bill, which is on final passage and which has passed the Senate and is here on final passage, and give it preference over any of the other bills in spite of the fact that there are bills that have been in the House months before the full crew repealer came over and we have asked for special orders for some of them and were refused. We have come here and asked for a special order for the workmen's compensation bill, that it should be given preference over the other bills and that resolution was defeated. The very gentleman who now makes this motion and who made the one last Thursday, took the floor and opposed the resolution to make a special order for the compensation amendments, and made the plea that we should not favor any bill, but that all bills should come up in the regular order as the calendar provided.

Now he comes in on two different occasions, Thursday and today and asks that a special order be made for this Full Crew Repealer or suspension bill today. Is that fair? Does that appeal to any of you with a drop of good sporting blood in you. Does that look as if you are going to be fair on this bill? I don't think any of you will agree that it does. I therefore ask you to vote down this motion; let the Full Crew Repealer take its regular course with the other bills. As far as I am personally concerned, gentlemen, I will tell you my position. If I had my way about it, this House would not consider a single Senate bill until the Senate comes clean with some of our House bills that are over there. Why must this House always bow to the Senate? There we have the Mine Cave Bill—

The SPEAKER. The Chair hopes the gentleman will not criticize the other body.

Mr. MAURER. I am merely trying to point out our duty, Mr. Speaker. We have the Mine Cave bill in the Senate. Why is not that passed? It is a very important measure. I do not feel that I will be justifying myself to my constituents if I vote for a single Senate bill until we get some better results in the Senate on House bills.

Therefore, this one in particular, gentlemen, vote this resolution down in the spirit of fairness and fair play. I know the other side will get up and make a strong plea for the passage of this resolution, but what kind of a plea can they make in the face of the facts that stare you in the face. You know that you have refused us a special order for other bills weeks ago. Time and time again requests were made for special orders for important bills and all refused and her comes the most notorious of all, the most despised of any legislation that we have to face this legislature and then you come and ask to make a special order for it. I do not believe you will stand for it, at least, I hope you will not.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I heartily agree with my friend from Berks, Mr. Maurer, that we ought not to fool ourselves on this measure. This country today is in a great crisis and the young men that we are about to send to France and England to serve in the trenches will work ten, twelve, fourteen, aye, twenty hours a day to protect you in your works at home and I appeal to the members of this House to vote for this resolution so that we may vote upon this measure to suspend the labor laws if, in the opinion of the President of the United States, it is necessary in order to protect our young men at the front, in the trenches over on the other side. Gentlemen, don't let us fool ourselves on this measure. This is not the time to ask why one bill or the other should not receive preference. I, for one, am in favor of labor but I, with a great many of our statesmen, believe in the principle that capital and labor must work hand in hand if the United States is to be successful and if we are going to win this war with our allies on the other side, France, England and Russia, and the new democracy, and I appeal to you to stand up for it and work fifteen or twenty hours a day if necessary in order to protect our young men that are going to the front. I ask you to support this resolution.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am going to ask you to vote upon this motion to suspend the rules in order that we might consider at this time Senate Bill No. 1033, and while I do that I am going to ask you to go on record for that in one roll call. I am thinking that I am voicing the sentiment of a majority of the members of this House tonight when I say we are here this week to get as much work done before twelve o'clock noon on Thursday as possible. If there is a motion or an amendment made to lay this motion upon the table it will necessitate two roll calls and I believe the members of this House can just as well go upon record as to whether they want this bill considered at this time under one roll call as they can under two. I stood upon this floor last Thursday and I argued that there were two measures of State-wide importance that ought to be considered tonight. This is one of them, but in the wisdom of this House it did not at that time consider wisely that resolution. Now we have asked you men to suspend the rule in order that we might do what we have been sent here for as men and go on record, "aye" or "no" as to whether Senate Bill No. 1033 passes this House or not. It is not a question at this time as to whether the bill is good or bad, but it is a question, gentlemen, as to whether you and I care to go on record for or against this resolution. I trust that you will do that, at least, that you will sit in your seats and without further debate you will vote "aye" or you will vote "no" as to whether this all-important measure—and it is an important measure—comes before this House at this time or no. I trust you will do that.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I can hardly see the logic of my colleague from Delaware when he says in his argument that there are just two or three bills that should be considered at this time when he makes the motion that the only bill that he considers of importance is the Full Crew Bill.

Now, gentlemen, I want to say to you this: That there are very few members of this House but what have some important legislation to consider this week between now and next Thursday. There are a number of Senate bills that are of vital importance to the State of Pennsylvania, bills that have gone through the committee and have had public hearings on the other side and then have come over for our judgment in this legislative hall tonight or during this week and if we make this one special order of business or if we discard that rule on this one there is no telling where we will land. It will take up a bill that is twenty-nine or thirty down on the list of Senate bills and leave a number of other important bills that this House should consider at this time. We have the Teachers' Pension Bill and we have the Transit Bill from Philadelphia and some other important bills that should be considered. It is not my purpose to discuss the merits or demerits of this bill but to be fair to everybody we should not make any special order of business. Every man in this House is vitally interested in some particular measure which concerns him or his constituents. Why take up this particular bill, which is away over on the calendar, and leave other important measures take a back seat that should be considered now. I hope you will take the bills up and consider them in their regular order and I ask you to vote this motion down.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, last Thursday a resolution similar to this was brought to your notice. We made a similar plea that the Compensation Bill should also get fair treatment by this House, but it failed then. We hear patriotic speeches that at this time when we are in war we ought to work twenty hours a day. My dear friends, they thought that in Europe when the war broke out and they found out that they had to go back to the old standard. They found out by speeding up the old machine that the old machines were breaking down and they went back to the labor laws, in England and France. I want to say to you gentlemen all these labor men, the great majority will be in the trenches and they will leave their loved ones at home. They won't feel kindly to you when you repeal the laws that make conditions unbearable for them. I have seen other repealers that were unfortunate for their endorsers and did not come before this House; they wanted to repeal labor laws in the State during the time of the war; wanted to repeal the child labor law; wanted to repeal the Woman's Labor Law. Yes, I will say this to you now: Labor will go with you all the way to France when it becomes necessary and you won't find labor lacking nor their families, but let us stick in some of those repealers, that apply to those who don't labor; that they send their children and their wives and daughters into the factories with ours. You don't find them patriotic enough to do that. I say to you, and I may be considered radical in saying it, the corporations of this State don't want this repealed for patriotism, but for their own selfish purposes. That is what they want and this is a stepping-stone to it. By the Heavens, men, if you want to be fair—and Mr. Ramsey said he would be fair—why does he not come out now and give labor a chance and give the men and women of this State fair play in the Compensation Law? Ah, no; trickery my friends. The men, the soldier boys are awake in the trenches in France, and they are wide awake and very much awake. Their brothers at home will go and labor when it becomes necessary and when they do that they will demand that the man that does not labor in the State go out and play his part. I fail to see the importance of this Full Crew Act to be repealed, or where it is going to be such a great benefit to you all. I went home on a train the other day and out between here and Millersburg a big tree had fallen down on the track and we were delayed there for two hours, because we did not have enough of a crew to pull it off the track and the passengers had to do the work or they could not get home on that day. Of course, that has nothing to do with this. You talk about safety. We held an Efficiency Conference in this State, two of them, and they had no time for it when it hit the purses of the corporations; they could not see Safety First. But at any time that you can pile profit into the corporation's purses they will be for Safety First. I say to you, my friends, in the name of the people, that labor in this State, stand up like men and do just the opposite from what Mr. Ramsey would have you do. Vote down this resolution, and if we are fortunate enough to come to it, vote down the bill. Let everybody have a chance and let the Compensation Bill come to you and don't be afraid to vote on it when it comes.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I think that the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Swartz, struck the keynote in regard to the present bill. We had this Full Crew Law under discussion in this Legislature for two or three sessions. We all know that at the time this law passed—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order. The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not confining himself to the question before the House. The question before the House is on the motion to suspend the rules.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is within his rights to discuss the merits of the bill and the point of order is not well taken.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, the bill at the time it became a law was uneconomic and unscientific. It imposed upon the railroads a rigidity in regard to the selection and the appointment of employees that was wholly and entirely improper. There is no one man who is more in favor of good labor legislation than myself. I have consistently voted for all legislation that I believed to be beneficial for labor, but I hold that it is my duty always to vote against such legislation as I believe to be unfair to any citizen of the State of Pennsylvania whether it be in favor of a corporation or in favor of labor. At a time such as this when we are involved in a great war we should offer to the railroads every possible facility for transportation. We should not say to them that on particular trains they shall have a certain number of employees and on another train they shall have only so many, and on another one so many, but we should leave it to the good judgment of those who are best able to judge as to the number of employees needed and necessary. Therefore, I feel that when Mr. Swartz said that the great object today is to give the railroads a free hand and let them state and let them decide how many men are needed on their respective trains. We are only doing what is wise, in doing that, and if there was a need two years ago for the repeal of this Full Crew Act I contend that under existing conditions when we are confronted with a great crisis in this country it is doubly necessary that we repeal this act, at least for the present, and allow those who are best fitted to determine what crews shall be appointed for the trains on the railroads of this State determine. I, therefore, think that we should suspend the rules in accordance with the motion of the gentleman from Delaware and should have a fair vote on this measure. I believe that patriotism and good common sense will govern and that we will vote in favor of the measure that is all important, just and fair, as I believe this measure to be.

CALL FOR PREVIOUS QUESTION.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

POINT OF INFORMATION.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of information.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether Rule 43 has been suspended.

The SPEAKER. No rule has been suspended up to the present time.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, then I move you that this House go into executive session.

The SPEAKER. There is nothing in order except whether the main question shall now be put.

Mr. ARTHUR. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Chair if we are not voting upon the question to suspend the rule.

The SPEAKER. The motion has been made by the gentleman from Franklin that the main question be now put. Those who desire to have the main question put at this time will vote aye, those who do not desire the main question to be put at this time will not no.

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The question now recurs on the motion made by the gentleman from Delaware.

Mr. RAMSEY. The Clerk will read the motion so that the members will understand what they are voting on.

The Clerk read the motion as follows:

Moved by Mr. Ramsey, seconded by Mr. Hess that House Rule 43 be suspended for the specific purpose of considering at this time, out of order, Senate Bill No. 1033, file folio 4305, page 18 of to-day's House calendar.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, Rule No. 43 has three sections. The first provides that any rule of the House may be suspended at any time for a specific purpose. If it is that portion of the rule that the motion would suspend, there is no specific purpose stated. The second section—

The SPEAKER. For the benefit of the gentleman from Butler the Chair would ask the Clerk to again read the motion. The Chair is under the impression that the motion does state for a specific purpose.

The Clerk then read the motion a second time.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know which section of rule 43 this motion is to suspend.

The SPEAKER. The one specified in the motion; it specifically names a certain bill.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, it does not specify which section should be suspended, and the two sections are contradictory.

The SPEAKER. The purpose is indicated in the motion.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. BLACK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. BLACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if the following motion is in order—

The SPEAKER. There is nothing in order except the roll call.

Mr. BLACK. This is an amendment to the motion.

The SPEAKER. The previous question has been decided upon by a vote of the House. There is nothing in order but the roll call, and it was so decided by the House at this time.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. BLACK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a further question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. BLACK. Mr. Speaker, is a motion to adjourn in order at this time.

The SPEAKER. Nothing having transpired since the motion to adjourn was defeated, a further motion to adjourn at this time is not in order. There is nothing in order but the calling of the roll.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Ramsey and Mr. Rininger.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified as follows:

REASON FOR VOTE.

Believing as I do that the all important necessity for men in other useful pursuits at this time demands men when labor is scarce, and that the suspension of the so-called Full Crew Law will work no direct hardship, I will vote to make the repeal bill a special order and will, if permitted hereafter vote to restore it in time of peace.

Mr. BEYER.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

The SPEAKER. Under the motion just passed, the House will proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1033.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1944 (Senate Bill No. 1033), entitled

A Supplement to an act entitled "An Act to promote the safety of travellers and employes upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to properly man their trains" approved the nineteenth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven and providing that the provisions of said act shall not be in force during the time the government of the United States is engaged in war with a foreign government or power and for a period of one month after the close of such war

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1033 at this time is out of order, for the reason that rule No. 8, providing the order of business for Monday night, does not provide for bills upon third reading.

The SPEAKER. The rules of the House provide that the majority of those voting can at any time alter the rules of the House, which has been done. The Chair, therefore, rules the point of order not well taken.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the rule that was suspended under the motion of the gentleman from Delaware was rule 43, which is a rule which provides for the method of suspending rules. That motion did not suspend rule No. 8, which is, therefore, in force, and there is no provision for the consideration of third reading bills or for the consideration of any other bills at this time.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules the point of order not well taken, and for the benefit of the House will read the rule: "Any rule of the House may be suspended at any time for a specific purpose, by a majority vote; after the accomplishment of which purpose the rule shall remain in force as before." The purpose of the motion was clearly stated, that it was for the purpose of suspending the rule for a specific purpose, namely, the proceeding to the consideration of the bill.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I appeal from the decision of the Chair on the point of order.

Mr. BLACK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

MR. WHITAKER IN THE CHAIR.

The SPEAKER. The question before the House is on the point of order raised by the gentleman from Butler, Mr. J. O. Campbell. The question is, shall the ruling of the Chair stand as the ruling of the House?

On the question,

Shall the ruling of the Chair stand as the ruling of the House?

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, the motion of the gentleman from Delaware, made a short time ago, was to abolish rule 43 for the specific purpose of considering at this time Senate Bill No. 1033. Rule 43 has three sections. The first section provides that any rule of the House may be suspended at any time for a specific purpose, and so on. The second section has to do with the altering or amending of the rules permanently, which is not involved in this question. The third section has to do with the publication of the rules, which is not involved here. The only portion of rule 43 in this proceeding is the first section. That rule is a rule which provides for the method which the House may follow or shall follow if the House desires to suspend temporarily any rule of the House. That rule, 43, having been abolished, it simply means that we have abolished the procedure or method or enabling section whereby we may suspend any other rule, and it having been abolished, the ordinary and regular rules of the House are in force, because no other rule of the House has been suspended. Therefore, we turn to rule No. 8, which provides the order of business for Mondays as follows: "First, motions to recommit may be made. Second, unfinished business (other than bills) may be considered. Third, bills on first reading." That is all that the rule provides as an order of business for Monday night.

SPEAKER BALDWIN IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to say that after an examination of the motion, the Chair will sustain the point of order raised by the gentleman from Butler.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, if I am in order, I desire to take exception to the latter ruling of the Speaker. This motion that the House has just adopted is similar to an act of Assembly, and when an act of Assembly is passed it repeals every other act and has an enacting clause, it supersedes all other acts. This motion, while it suspends—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that there is nothing before this House. If the gentleman desires to make an appeal from the decision of the Chair, he can do so.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman has already risen to a point of order.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a motion.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Dauphin has the floor.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Elk.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, under Rule 43 I desire to move at this time to suspend Rule 8 for the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1033.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.
On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, the motion of the gentleman from Elk is out of order because the House having already suspended Rule 43, there is no provision in the rules for the suspension of the rules by the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to state to the gentleman from Butler that he sustained the point of order raised by the gentleman from Butler, consequently all proceedings fall. The motion made by the gentleman from Elk is now in order.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, is the motion of the gentleman from Elk in writing?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, it will be in a moment.

The SPEAKER. In answer to the gentleman from Armstrong, the Chair will state that the motion is in writing.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the Clerk read it.

The SPEAKER. The motion will be read by the Clerk.

The motion was read by the Clerk as follows:

Moved by the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn, seconded by the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Lupert, that under Rule 43, Rule No. 8 be suspended for the purpose of considering at this time Senate Bill No. 1033.

POINT OF INFORMATION.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Butler will state his point of information.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, is it not correct that the point of order which I raised, and which the Chair sustained a little while since, was the point of order made against the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1033 at this time because that was out of order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair decided that all the proceedings under the motion made by the gentleman from Delaware were out of order and therefore there was nothing before the House. Therefore, a motion of that character was in order and the motion has been made by the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. I appeal again from the decision of the Chair, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BLACK. Mr. Speaker, I second the appeal.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will have to place his appeal in writing. The Chair does not understand what the appeal is and therefore calls for the appeal to be in writing and sent to the Chair.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I present my appeal in writing.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the appeal.

The appeal was read by the Clerk as follows:

Appeal from the decision of the Chair by James O. Campbell of Butler. Appeal from the decision of the Chair entertaining motion of the gentleman from Elk that under authority of Rule 43, Rule No. 8 be suspended. Grounds of appeal are that Rule 43 has been suspended by the House by an "aye" and "nay" vote. Rule 43 having been suspended, there is no provision in the rules for the suspension of any rule. The point of order which I recently raised was to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1033 and not the suspension of Rule 43 which had been voted upon and suspended, therefore that decision could not cause the fall of proceedings theretofore passed by the House on an "aye" and "nay" vote.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will decide the point of order not well taken because the resolution offered by the gentleman from Delaware was for a specific purpose, namely, to proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1033, so stated in the resolution for that specific purpose. We did not proceed further for that specific purpose and the Chair declared all proceedings annulled, consequently the House was back in its original position and Rule 43 is not now suspended.

Does the gentleman from Butler desire to appeal from the decision of the Chair?

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, out of consideration for the time of the House I shall not appeal.

The SPEAKER. The question now before the House is on the motion made by the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn, seconded by the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Luppert.

The Clerk will again read the motion.

The motion was again read by the Clerk.

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following amendment to the motion.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Moved by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Maurer, seconded by the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Fowler, that Mr. Flynn's motion be amended to include House Bill No. 1187, File Folio 8713, on page 8 of to-day's calendar and that it also be made a special order with Senate Bill No. 1033.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will decide the motion to amend is out of order at this time because the motion made by the gentleman from Elk is for a specific purpose.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members:

Messrs. Baldi, Boulton, Cox, Flynn, Fretz, Godwin, Hefferman, Hess, Heyburn, Lafferty, McNichol, Neary, Pickering, Ramsey Rhodes, Harry L. Rininger, Scott, Smith, Edgar R. Spangler, Swartz, Ulrich, Walker, Walter, Weimer.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question.

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

It was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the Third Reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1944 (Senate No. 1033), entitled

A Supplement to an act entitled "An Act to promote the safety of travellers and employees upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to properly man their trains," approved the nineteenth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven and providing that the provisions of said act shall not be in force during the time the government of the United States is engaged in war with a foreign government or power and for a period of one month after the close of such war

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BLACK. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following motion.

The SPEAKER. The motion will be read by the Clerk.

The motion was read by the Clerk as follows:

Moved by the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Black, seconded by the gentleman from Mercer, Mr. Campbell, that this House do now adjourn to meet Tuesday morning, at 11:00 A. M.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, realizing the late hour and perhaps that none of you are in a humor to listen to a long drawn out speech, I have a few notes prepared and I will hold to my notes in order to be as brief as possible, and I hope that you will extend to me the courtesy and preserve as good order as possible, and I will extend to every member speaking the same courtesy. In order to do justice to this subject we must bear in mind that there are many representatives here for the first session and for that reason I wish just briefly to go into the history of the Full Crew Law. I happened to be here in 1911 and since, and, therefore, am in possession of many of the facts concerning this important measure that some of the younger men are not. Mr. Speaker, I would be obliged to you if you will keep the rear of the House quiet.

The SPEAKER. The House will be in order.

Mr. MAURER. The House is in good order; there is a bunch of railroad lobbyists back of the rail there who are out of order. If they will listen they will hear something that they should know. If you will listen you will hear something that you should have heard long ago.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, as a matter of right and courtesy to the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Maurer, I ask that better order be maintained.

Mr. MAURER. The House is in splendid order and the noise is right back of the rail.

During the panic of 1907, the railroad managers, on the plea of retrenchment, greatly endangered the lives of their employees and patrons, to say nothing of inconveniencing shippers by reducing the working force of the crews that manned their trains.

Several years later, after business revived and traffic again became normal, they insisted that their programme of retrenchment must continue—this in the face of the fact that traffic was as heavy as ever and their trains longer than ever. To relieve this outrageous situation, there seemed but one remedy and that was State interference. A bill was, accordingly, presented to the General Assembly of 1911, providing that trains should be properly manned. I had the honor of being a member of this body, at that time, also a member of the Railroad Committee and, therefore, know whereof I speak. Several public hearings were held and both sides were given plenty of opportunity to be heard. After hearing the evidence, the judgment of the Assembly was that the bill should be passed and it was. The Governor signed it and then the railroads asked the Courts to have the act declared unconstitutional. First they appealed to the Dauphin County Court, only to have the Court rule that the act was constitutional. Then they appealed to the State Supreme Court and this Court sustained the lower Court. In the meantime, they were busy convincing the Federal Interstate Commerce Commission that the Full Crew law was inflicting upon them a financial burden which they were unable to bear and that they be permitted to raise both freight and passenger rates. This request was, finally, granted. Freight rates advanced about five per cent., and passenger rates from twenty to thirty per cent., after they were given this legal right to reach into the public's pockets for this extra rake-off.

They next decided that, since the Courts refused to set the law aside on constitutional grounds, they would have the law repealed and pocket the increase allowed. Six months before the General Assembly of 1915 convened, they opened their campaign of attack on the Full Crew law. Many of the big daily papers were whipped into line, publicity men were employed and a campaign of expensive pamphleteering, conducted. Committees, with petitions, were sent over every road, some of them traveling on special trains. Every city, town, village and cross-road centre was solicited for signatures and hundreds of thousands of signatures were secured. I feel safe in saying that more than half, either did not know the true nature of the petition or letter they signed, or were coerced into doing so. Practically every railroad employee, from road and shop laborer up, was given to understand that his refusal to sign, as told, would displease his superior. Some of the more stubborn were given to understand that the loss of their jobs was quite possible if they failed to sign.

The result was that hundreds of thousands of letters came flowing into Harrisburg, all praying for the repeal of the Full Crew law. I, alone, received nearly thirty thousand such letters and I still have about twenty thousand of these letters in my possession. Petitions, weighing, perhaps, a half ton, were also presented to us.

I was also a member of the General Assembly of 1915 and the Railroad Committee and several public hearings were held. The attorneys, representing the railroad interests, pleaded for the repeal of the act, on the grounds that the Full Crew law was not necessary and that it cost them two millions of dollars a year and that this two millions paid in wages was equal to five per cent. on forty millions of dollars. But they failed to mention that, if the law was repealed, they would absorb these two millions by adding forty more millions of water to their already waterlogged stock. In my opposition to the repealer, at that time, I charged that the railroads in this State, alone, spent over two millions of dollars in their effort to have the law repealed. Sometime later, the president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, publicly admitted that they spent two million, seven hundred thousand. Thanks to our Governor, the act was not repealed two years ago. This session, these gentlemen come again and ask us to do what they fail to have done during the past six years. Early in the session a Full Crew Repealer, similar to the one of last session, was introduced by Senator Miller, of Clearfield County, and their forces were being lined up to fight for the repeal on similar lines used two years ago, when, suddenly, the United States declared war against Germany. Promptly, our railroad magnates changed tactics. The Miller bill was allowed to die in committee and Senator McKee, of Pittsburgh, was asked to sponsor the same kind of a bill, with a different name and decorated with red, white and blue bunting. The bill is labeled, "A War Measure," and the General Assembly is asked to prove its loyalty to Uncle Sam by voting for it.

At the public hearing, held in the Senate by the Joint Committees of Railroads, some of those favorable to the McKee suspension bill, contended that, if the law was suspended, it was just possible that there would be no men laid off; that, instead, they would put more trains on. Others said the Government needed railroaders in France to rebuild the destroyed roads there and that, therefore, it was our patriotic duty to relieve these more than two thousand men to serve Uncle Sam in France. Others said they needed them in munition plants and, in the same breath, everyone declared that the railroads were all short-handed and needed more men.

Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it is, indeed, needless for me to point out the hypocrisy of their position. The fact of the matter is, it is not patriotism they are pleading for, but more dollars, which they hope, with our consent, to get out of the hides of their already over-worked employees.

It was during the Civil War, while our fathers were fighting, suffering and dying for the preservation of the Union, that the predecessors of our present-day railroad magnates were in Washington, unbosoming their patriotic souls to Congress, with the result that Congress gave them 155,000,000 acres of our lands and enough of our money to build several railroads across the American continent, for which we have never received, they got control and destroyed nearly all of our great canals, monopolized our coal and other mineral deposits. They denuded our forests, polluted our streams, destroyed our fish, defied our laws and, through coercion, cajolery, or bribery, in some form or other, debauched and corrupted many of our public officials. Thus were they able to capitalize their roads at $21,127,000,000 of which it is conservatively estimated that $9,000,000,000 does not represent any bona fide investment. In other words, last year the public paid over eight per cent. profit on nine billions of watered stock and now the roads are trying, through the Bureau of Valuation, to inject $8,600,000,000 additional water into their capitalization. In the past two years, the railroads of this country have increased their net profits, alone, about $500,000,000. Hence, to absorb these increased earnings, more stock must be watered.

Not long ago, the Railway Trainmen secured an eight-hour day, involving, it is claimed, an increase of about $50,000,000, annually in railroad expenses. Now, no one, not directly connected with the railroad game, would dare to contend that this added expense could not be paid out of the increased profits. Not so, however, with our dollar-chasing patriots. They promptly rushed to the Interstate Commerce Commission and asked for the right to add fifteen per cent. to their freight rates. As their gross earnings of the railroads last year were $3,702,940,241, a fifteen per cent. increase would mean an increase tax upon the public on freight traffic, alone, of nearly four hundred millions of dollars. In other words, for every dollar that they may pay the trainmen, they intend to collect eight from the public in increased rates and this, in time, means that the flood-gates again be opened to gush forth its stock of water to absorb these profits. Thus we see that the greater the profits of the railways, the greater the burdens on the shoulders of the people. Experience has taught us that, when the profits increase, freight and passenger rates are not reduced, but increased. We also know that wages are not increased, only dividends are increased and, in order that the dear public may not know the extent of their gains, many millions are, annually, absorbed by subsidiary companies. And hundreds of millions more on bonds, representing nothing more than worn out and displaced machinery and rolling stock.

During the past year, we heard a great deal about food shortage and the impression was and still is that among many there really was a shortage; while people in some of our large cities were rioting for food, millions upon millions of bushels of wheat were stored in Chicago, Minneapolis and other terminals. Other elevators were filled with corn. Millions of hogs and cattle were on the farms. Potatoes were plentiful in Maine. At San Francisco, alone, 1,250,000 pounds of rice had waited for weeks for a chance to be hauled eastward.

In short, the railroads are unable to handle the traffic imposed upon them. They have not enough cars and nine-tenths of the railroad mileage of the United States is single track. If some of these great profits I have mentioned, had been used for the proper up-keep of the roads, instead of water capitalization, the nine-tenths of now single track would be double-tracked and, in many cases, quadruple-tracked, besides their equipment would be up-to-date instead of physically broken down as many now are and unable to handle the traffic.

There are bonds issued for the consolidation of the fraudulently built Lake Shore and Michigan Southern on which the public has paid seven times the total value of the property on which the bonds were issued, and is still paying the tribute, year after year.

There are $50,000,000 of securities on the New York Central issued by Commodore Vanderbilt for the sole and delightful purpose of making himself the richest man in America, on which the public has paid so far $125,000,000 and is still paying, year after year.

There are millions and hundreds of millions of dollars of railroad bonds in existence today, issued on equipment that has long since utterly disappeared; bonds on which we are still paying the interest, year after year. We have paid five times over for locomotives of which not so much as a streak of rust exists, cars that have long since gone to dust, buildings that have disappeared from the face of the earth.

But the bonds that were issued on these things still remain and collect tribute from us, year after year.

Of every dollar you pay in freight rates, at least forty cents represents the interest upon the tricks that High Finance has played with the property and interest upon the securities that have been issued to build the fortunes of the Gentlemen on the Inside.

And you pay freight rates every day, every one of you pays them. You pay them in everything you buy and everything you consume. You pay them with every shovelful of coal you put into the fire, with every slice of bread you cut, with every nail you drive, with every stick of lumber you buy, with every stitch the good wife puts into a garment. All day long you are paying freight rates, and year after year you pay more and more of them.

And now these same interests come to us and ask us to suspend one of our State's best laws—The Full Crew Law.

Last March, W. W. Atterbury, of Philadelphia, President of the American Railway Association, while addressing the Traffic Club in Pittsburgh, among other things, said that the public, through their representatives, will tie the labor unions, hand and foot, and this very McKee bill, now before us, is one of the measures intended to do some of the tying and to accomplish this they use patriotism as a cloak to shield their real purpose.

We hear a great deal, these days, of standing back of the President of these United States. Are the Railroad Officials willing to stand back of him? Not much. Here is a letter the President wrote to Governor Brumbaugh:

"My dear Governor Brumbaugh:

"I take pleasure in replying to your letter of June first.

"I think it would be most unfortunate for any of the states to relax the laws by which safeguards have been thrown about labor. I feel that there is no necessity for such action, and that it would lead to a slackening of the energy of the nation rather than to an increase of it, besides being very unfair to the laboring people, themselves.

"Sincerely yours,

"WOODROW WILSON."

In the face of this letter, one would think these self-professed patriots would have had this bill withdrawn. Not so, however. They are here, asking us to show, by our action, not only disregard, but disrespect for the opinion of the President of these United States, by voting for the repeal or suspension of a law that the President thinks should not be molested.

Gentlemen, I ask you to vote, "NO," on this bill.

Mr. SPEAKER, in conclusion I want to say this: The other speakers will rise and point out the necessity of passing this as a war measure. If ever there was a time more important than any other time that the trains on our roads should be properly manned, it is during wartime. We have on the railroads now soldiers at every bridge to guard against destruction of our bridges, and if the war really waxes warm the enemy may put explosives on a train with time clocks and those clocks be timed and by the time a train gets into a big terminal blow the train and the terminal into pieces. If ever you needed more men on trains it is during this war period. Besides, they are using every car they can get hold of; cars that should have been discarded and were discarded and again pressed into service—old worn out cars. Through these cars occur accidents; they break down and the crew must fix them up and get the train over the railroad.

Railroadmen and maguates need more men and not less men on the trains. If you want to render a real patriotic service to the government that service can be rendered by voting against this Senate Bill. We are going to send perhaps thousands of our boys over these roads; soldier boys that you are going to send to the front and are you going to risk their lives by poorly manned trains which you will do if you repeal this law? No, gentlemen, don't let anyone try to make you believe that this is a war measure, the repealing of this Act. The Governor of Pennsylvania has not asked you to repeal it; the President of the United States says you shan't repeal it. I have heard a great deal on this floor about loyalty to the President of the United States; show your loyalty tonight by voting down this bill and then you are loyal. I have the copy of that letter here but I can give you the original, if you want it. Men, I have read to you the earnings of these roads, and when I speak of the subsidiary companies, I could extend that in itself that would make a talk that would last all night to show you the graft there is in that line. Time will not permit me to go into all the questions of the bill, but these figures which I have given you are correct, and I am here to tell you that if you repeal this and if you authorize earnings as they contend there will be that earning will be expended by issuing more stocks to absorb the additional earnings. That is what I mean when I say that the more money the railroad makes the greater the burden on the people and the earnings are absorbed in dividends and not to run the road or keep up to improve or for betterment. Some roads contend that they are doing that but first thing that they do is to have their dividends paid to the stockholders. I ask you not to give this slap in the face of those who are now running trains. They are heavier than they ever ran before in the history of this Commonwealth. They are now, some of them, one and a half miles long. No, they don't want less men on these long trains, because they need more men with these old cars to fix them up and the crews must do it. They expect their crews to fix their old ones up with heavy parts, and it is impossible to do that with a light crew and it cannot be done.

Therefore, I repeat, your duty to the Commonwealth tonight is to vote down this bill. I thank you.

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Maurer, has chosen to discuss this very important question from the very broad standpoint of railroad capitalization, and I propose to meet him upon that ground, rather than to bring forth the old Star Spangle Banner or wave the Red, White and Blue. It is primarily a discussion between the railroad man on the one hand, and the railroads of the country on the other. I take it there is a third factor in the proposition which is even more important, and that is the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

This Act of Assembly of 1911, was passed upon a certain basis. It was passed because the railroad trainmen came before this Legislature and demanded that the act be put through on the ground of safety to the workmen on the trains, and to the safety of the general public. Now let us see whether or not the act was necessary upon that ground. In the first place. I do not believe any of us have any idea that the managers of railroads need to be forced by any legislative assembly to provide safety either for the traveling public or for the men on their trains for two reasons. In the first place, I do not believe anybody imagines that the man who runs a railroad, and who has charge of its financial policy, is any more inhumane than any other wise business man. If you think so just turn for a moment to the pension arrangement, to the relief associations which are conducted by the railroads of this country for the benefit of their men, and I think the mere statement of it negatives the proposition made a moment ago. Let us turn from the humane standpoint to the business standpoint. Does anybody imagine from a business standpoint that the railroads of this country will run trains so insecurely manned that every little while there will be a bad accident, smashing up the traveling public or the trainmen? Everybody knows as a matter of fact that if they did not run their trains on a safe basis they would have big damages to pay to the traveling public or big payments to make to their employes under the Employers' Liability Act. So therefore I think it may be said as an absolute truth that there is no necessity upon the part of this Legislature or any other Legislature in this country, to pass any laws forcing railroad managers to provide safety for the traveling public or for the trainmen.

Now did this Act of Assembly of 1911 after it went into operation bring about more safety to the traveling public and to the trainmen? I think not. As a matter of fact statistics prove beyond any question that there was not any more safety vouchsafed to the public, because the next years following the operation of the act there were something like two thousand more cases of injury than there had been in the previous year. Now I do not mean to say that the Full Crew Law brought about these injuries, but I do mean to say that there was absolutely no lessening of the injuries. Therefore, the reason that was assigned for the passage of this act having fallen what possible necessity is there for keeping it upon the statute books unless it is to deliver up the state of Pennsylvania, or the Legislature of Pennsylvania, to the principle that money should be taken from the pocket of one man and put into the pocket of another man without just recompense.

I want to ask you gentlemen whether you regard it as a wise principle of industrial organization and operation, that an inexperienced Legislature should attempt to manage the business of any public corporation, having little or no knowledge upon the subject. I know you will say to me very frankly, that we do not regard that as a wise proposition because—

Mr. Speaker, I regret, sir, to raise a personal question, but I find it difficult to speak with the noise in the rear of the rooms as it is.

The SPEAKER. If better order is not maintained in the rear of the room, back of the rail the Chair would instruct the Sergeant-of-Arms to clear the room of all but those who are entitled to remain.

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker, It was very difficult for me to hear the remarks of the gentleman from Berks.

Now I want to ask the members of this House what they regard such question as the length of trains, the number of men working on the trains, what they regard those questions as making up. Those are questions of expert technical knowledge. How in the world can the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania say to any business corporation you must employ so many men, you must have trains of so many cars? I submit to you that it is a proposition that ought to be put to an expert commission composed either of railroad men or to men with knowledge of the subject, who after they have considered the subject thoroughly and fully, calling upon other experts, taking testimony on each side, are then competent to say whether or not there should be any regulation on that given subject. You only need to look about you at the various laws of different states to find out what a perfect jargon of laws there is on this subject. For instance in the state of New York, the extra man must be put on if the train length is twenty-five cars; in the state of New Jersey the extra man must be put on if there are thirty cars, and so in the State of Pennsylvania. In the State of Oregon, the extra man must be put on if the length of the train is forty cars, and in the state of Indiana fifty cars. Now I submit to you how utterly foolish, how utterly silly, it is to say that these Legislatures in a burst of activity in the interest of the traveling public and of the working trainmen, how perfectly silly it is to say, that they can arrive at any wise conclusion. Because, let us take the membership of this House, I am frank to say that I have no knowledge how long a train ought to be operated safely, but I am willing to put the matter up to the Public Service Commission, who, after considering the subject carefully and fully, calling in outside expert knowledge, is then able to say at the end of the given careful hearing, such laws ought to be put into effect.

Now did this Legislature in 1911 give any consideration to other matters, such as physical difficulty? Why you gentlemen know very well that it is much more easy to run a train safely upon a four track railroad in level country with a perfect signal system than it is to run it in a mountainous country with deep gorges, steep grades, and a doubtful signal system, yet absolutely no consideration was given to any one of these questions. This act was bolted through, and put through upon the simple proposition of safety, safety, safety, and we did not get out of it one iota more of safety. I submit to you that it is not fair to ask the railroads of the State of Pennsylvania to go down into their clothes for large sums of money unless there is adequate return either to the traveling public, or to the men themselves who work on the trains.

Now my good friend from Berks has gone very actively into the question of railroad capitalization, and all that sort of thing. I want to take that up only for a minute, for it is important. In the old days, fifteen or twenty years ago there was some necessity for putting a brake on railroad corporations. Every one of us with practical experience knows that in those days every councilman went around with a bundle of passes in his pocket. The railroad managers themselves were large stockholders in the coal companies, and very naturally they did things that they ought not to have done. I will go so far as to agree with my good friend from Berks that I think it would be a mighty fine thing if every railroad corporation in this country would keep out of politics, and stay out of politics. From that time on when we started in to correct the abuses and regulate the railroads, we went into a veritable ogre of law making. What was the result? We have statute books filled with two-cent fare laws; we have statute books teeming with extra crew laws; we have statute books teeming with length of train laws, and all kinds of laws, until the railroads have been in absolute desperation as to what more might happen from the next legislature. Let us see if that is not true. What has been the effect on railroad growth? Gentlemen, every one knows that we cannot expect any prosperity in this country unless we have an extension of the transportation system of the country. What has been the practical result of this legislation heaped upon the railroad corporations? I think I am talking with fairness on this subject and am approaching it from the broad-minded standpoint of a citizen of the State of Pennsylvania, anxious to do his fair duty by the men on the one hand and the railroads on the other. Let us consider the position the railroads find themselves in to-day with all this legislation during the past year. There has not been an extension of any mile of track at all in this great country of ours. This country, from its inception, was a country dependent absolutely upon the extension of the railroad system for success, and it might be termed a railroad-made country. What has happened? Only within the past few months the New York Central Railroad, one of the great systems of this country, tried to sell twenty-five million dollars worth of stock at par. Did they find any investor for it? Not by a long shot. The Erie Railroad and the Southern Railroad and other transportation systems have found it impossible to put through a comprehensive financing plan. Why? Simply because the average banker and the average investor do not know at what minute other drastic laws, such as the extra crew law, will be put through to the detriment of the railroads and to the disadvantage of the traveling public. Who pays the freight in the last aspect? I will tell you. You gentlemen to-day are paying four dollars more per ton for coal. Why? Because the miners were putting up the prices? That may have a little to do with it. Then why? Because the transportation companies of the country have not the cars to put the coal in easy reach of every one of us, and why haven't they? They haven't got the cars because they haven't had the money to buy them. That is simply a statement of fact, and it is the truth. Why can't you get the coal? Every merchant here knows when he orders forty cars from the railroad company that they say to him, under the rules of the Interstate Commerce Commission, "We cannot give you more than five or six cars." Every one knows further that a thing becomes expensive when it is difficult to get the necessities of life delivered to you on an easy basis, and this is true to-day because the railroad companies do not have the facilities to deliver them to you. I say it is perfectly idle for the State of Pennsylvania and this Legislature to say that by hampering the railroad corporations it will promote the material prosperity of this Commonwealth. They are so linked up together, the prosperity of the railroads is such a concomitant part of the prosperity of every man, woman and child in this Commonwealth, that at the moment this State of Pennsylvania reaches its hand into the coffers of the railroads to pay an unjust salary to the working men, I say to you that every man, woman and child feels the reflection of that improper and unjust act. And if any man in this House can give me a reasonable answer to the contrary, let him rise and tell me about it. Now, gentlemen, who pays for this fancy, high-priced legislation? You and I. You and I pay for it in the pound of butter that comes to our door; we pay for it in the dozen of eggs that we eat; we pay for it in the clothes that we put on our backs, and the coal that we burn in our fires. Last year the great Congress of ours passed an act imposing upon the railroads certain restrictions in the letting of contracts. What was the result? It cost the Pennsylvania Railroad alone one million of dollars to install in the purchasing agent's department the force of clerical requirements put upon it by the Congress of the United States. Right to-day the taxes of the railroads have increased from 1916 to 1917, ninety-one per cent.

The cost of materials has increased seventy-eight per cent. A car that cost eight hundred dollars two years ago, to-day costs twenty-four hundred dollars. And yet, my good friend from Berks says, "Shall we water more stock?" I say to him, "We will need a whole lot more stock unless the railroad companies get increased freight rates." The seven great railroads of this country in 1917 will pay thirty-seven million dollars more for fuel than last year. The Pennsylvania Railroad, on its lines east, will pay nine millions of dollars this year to its employees because of the Adamson Law. On the lines and west it will pay thirteen million five hundred thousand dollars to its employees because of the Adamson Law. Is that good policy? I don't think so. It is an evidence of the fact that the railroads in this country are hamstrung and hog-tied from Arkansas to Portland, Oregon, and back to Washington and down to Harrisburg. I am not making any great cry in the interest of the railroads. I rather think I am talking in the interest of the people of Pennsylvania. You cannot play fast and loose with the great transportation systems of your country and expect your country to prosper. Does any state legislature bother themselves where the railroad is to get money when they pass a law that will increase its expenses? Not at all. It lies back on its haunches and says, "Get your money where you can." I want to say to you, and say frankly, that the time is coming, and coming soon, that unless the transportation systems of this country receive sensible, decent treatment from your law making bodies, that the railroads of this country are going to find themselves in the hands of a receiver; and that is no joke, because now in a country of one hundred millions of people which boasts of a prosperity never dreamed of since the days of Croesus and Solomon and his five hundred concubines, in this great country one-sixth of the mileage of the country is in the hands of a receiver.

Gentlemen of the House, I hope the day will come when railroad men will sit down with the brotherhood and discuss with the employees frankly this question of whether or not increased wages are a necessity, whether increased facilities are a necessity, and at least get out of their minds the idea that we can pass laws to increase the cost to railroad companies, and do it successfully, unless we at the same time say to the railroad companies, "We have directed that you shall pay more, and here is the money for you with which to pay more." That is a sensible and common sense proposition, which ought to appeal to every one of us. I am obliged to vote in favor of this repeal. I would feel much better if it were on the square question of whether or not the bill was a good one when it first came in. I do not care whether it is for the period of the war or for one month thereafter, but I am very glad to have the opportunity to vote on the repeal of this bill, because I feel that it was passed upon a false assumption not borne out by its effect. It does not add one iota of safety to the traveling public or to the men working on the trains. And since it was passed on a false basis, and continued on a false basis, it is high time that some legislature and some Governor are fair enough, brave enough, and courageous enough to say to the working men on the trains, "You are getting this money when you ought to not have it, and the law ought to be repealed." Therefore, I propose to vote for the repeal of this bill, and I hope you gentlemen of the House will do likewise.

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker, I believe that this question has been very thoroughly and ably discussed, and I therefore move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Messrs. Albee, Arthus, Brady, Christman, Conner, Cummins, Curry, Dawson, Goodwin, Hess, Heyburn Hibshman, Hoffman, Jones, Lafferty, Leary, Allen D. Miller, Ramsey, Rininger, Scott, Edgar R. Smith, Swarts, Ulsh, Walter, Whitaker and Woodward.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the "yeas" and "nays" were taken.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

The roll was verified as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

REASON FOR VOTE.

In 1911 when the so-called Full Crew Bill passed there was nobody organized in this state to which the regulation of the number of men required to man a train could be referred. There was indeed the old railroad commission but it was a body without power. The House and Senate of 1911 together with the chief Executive at that time by their action in enacting that law affirmed the contention of the trainmen that same regulation upon this question should be made for the traveling public and the trainmen.

In 1915 a bill was introduced improperly named the "Full Crew Repealer." That bill provided for the repeal of the Act of 1911 but also included a provision giving the Public Service Commission authority to make the necessary rulings as to the number of men required to man trains.

Along with the majority of the House of the Session of 1915 I voted for that bill because I determined from the statements made on each side at that time that the Act of 1911 was, because of its generality, improper in its application to the great variety in class of trains and character of runs; and also because this House was unable to intelligently consider the question involved because of this great variety in class of trains and character of runs.

But the Public Service Commission was organized with sufficient authority, a proper organization and qualified membership to investigate the classes of trains and character of runs and make such orders as the different conditions required.

This year the conditions are unchanged. If there was any reason for the decision of the Session of 1911 affirming the contention of the trainmen in 1911 that reason still exists. At any rate equally competent and honest railroad employers and railroad trainmen take opposite sides upon the necessity of this regulation. And this House is no more able to pass upon the question to-day than in 1915.

We are asked to vote for this bill for patriotic reasons. I wish to submit the following communication which I received from the Council of National Defense.

"Resolution adopted at meeting of executive committee and Committee of Labor, as approved by advisory commission and Council of National Defense, April 6, 1917.

.....we recommend.....third.

Third: That the Council of National Defense urge upon the legislatures of the several States that before final adjournment they delegate to the Governors of their respective States the power to suspend or modify restrictions contained in their labor laws when such suspension or modification shall be requested by the Council of National Defense; and such suspensions or modifications, when made shall continue for a specified period and not longer than the duration of the war.

I should have been glad to vote for a bill giving some such authority to the Governor or a Commission upon the request of the National Council of Defense. This bill does not provide for any such procedure and the interests of the nation require that its citizenship shall follow the commander and recommendations of its commander in chief and the Board constituted under authority of law to make recommendations in such matters. I refer to the letter of President Wilson to Governor Brumbaugh read into the record and the above statement of the Council of National Defense.

JAMES O. CAMPBELL.

REASONS FOR VOTE ON FULL CREW ACT.

During both campaigns of 1916, the Full Crew Act was made an issue in Huntingdon county. The men, favorable to the act, lined up and canvassed the county against me, using the Full Crew Act as the reason why I should be defeated. I had a large majority both times. For this reason I feel I am instructed to vote for the suspension, because every one pledge was "I will be governed by the expressed will of the majority of my constituents." My firm convictions are that the majority of the citizens of Huntingdon county favor the suspension of the act.

J. G. DELL.

REASON FOR VOTE.

First from the tone of this Bill it would seem that the bill is a good thing in times of peace and should be in my opinion a better safeguard to the traveling public and the quick transfer of all commodities of life.

Second, this is the safeguard for transferring soldiers in time of war.

Third, as given by men in other States; also President Wilson's message to the Legislature of New Jersey, as follows:

This bill provides, in substance, that railroads running through the State of New York shall have their trains suitably manned by a sufficient number of competent men to prevent wrecks, protect property, and conserve human life and limb.

"My judgment is that the conservation of human life and limb is as important to the people as a little additional expense in the operation of these common carriers. The state for its own welfare has a right to demand the employment upon the railroads of every safety appliance, whether mechanical or human, in the interest of life and limb and greater safety standards.

"We are here in the interest of the safety and the lives of the traveling public and the working trainmen, whose mortality record is fifteen killed every year in every thousand men employed. I want to know which is the highest duty here today. Is it that of the man who stands and asks you, in the interest of safety, when the burden of proof has not been borne by the other side, to keep the law upon the statute books, or that of the man who comes complaining because his lumber has been spoiled in transfer?"

Governor Woodrow Wilson, in his annual message to the legislature, dated January 9, 1912, said:

I recommend, moreover, the passage at an early date of an act requiring the railways operating within this state to provide their trains with adequate crews. Our sister State of Pennsylvania has adopted legislation of this kind and the railways whose lines cross from Pennsylvania into New Jersey actually carry full crews to the border of this State and then send their trains on through New Jersey with diminished crew, to the jeopardy as I believe, of life and property, requiring more of the small crew than it can safely and thoroughly do."

JOSEPH E. PHILLIPS.

REASON FOR VOTE.

I support this bill because of the critical situation of our country and maintain that full co-operation between R. R. Companies and employers is essential to the successful prosecution of the war.

WILLIAM M. RHODES.

REASON FOR VOTE.

Reasons for my attitude on this bill.

I have no sympathy with the operators of railroads asking this suspension on patriotic grounds unless they contribute some special benefits to the public in payment of same.

The President in time of war can if necessary suspend this act and operate trains with as few men as possibly can do same.

This is simply taking advantage of a war crisis to prey upon the love of country and patriotic sentiments. If the law is unnecessary, why don't the companies ask for its repeal and show why?

Having voted "aye" on Senate Bill No. 1033, I desire to file the following:

ROBERT L. WALLACE.

REASON FOR VOTE.

Believing that the demand for labor at this time demands a patriotic response in all directions, I am willing at a time like this when the nation is at war to suspend a measure which stands in the way of an economical service.

FREDERICK BEYER.

REMARKS OF MR. BLACK.

Mr. BLACK. Mr. Speaker, the previous question having been called for on the Full Crew discussion before I had a chance to offer my remarks, I ask that they be spread upon the records.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objections and the remarks will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

The following are Mr. Black's remarks:

Mr. BLACK. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is not my intention to give statistics to show the necessity of the retention of the Full Crew Act. As both sides on this very important question can quote figures to prove their case, that will only result in confusing the minds of the members who desire to decide this measure absolutely on its merits.

I can only say that in interviewing men, both young and old, in railroad service, that it is hard to find any who do not honestly believe that the repealing of this act would be detrimental to railroad service and would endanger the lives of the public as well as the employees.

This measure is drafted to be effective only during the war, and I believe if ever the so-called extra man was needed to assist in manning the trains it is now; every railroad bridge and tunnel is guarded at the present time by United States soldiers. Why isn't it just as necessary to have properly manned trains, as the measure now in effect absolutely guarantees?

One of the reasons for the enactment of the Full Crew Law was that trains would be started from terminals short handed, in case some members of the crew failed to report for duty, which naturally increased the hazard of railroad work.

Now as I have stated before, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, railroad men to the man do not want this present measure interfered with. And let us remember that they are to play a very important part in this present world crisis, in the transportation of supplies and troops, and may we not do anything today that will promote friction and cool the patriotic ardor of these men, who, if the occasion requires, will of their own initiative sacrifice anything to meet the unprecedented demands of the war.

If it is necessary to suspend this measure, the President possesses the power under the Act of Congress of August 16th, 1916. "The President in time of war is empowered through the Secretary of War, to take possession and assume control of any system or systems of transportation, or any part thereof, and to utilize the same to the exclusion of all other traffic thereon, for the transfer or transportation of troops, material and equipment, or for such other purposes connected with the emergency as may be needful or desirable."

Labor and Capital both have high duties to perform to win this world war. If Labor seeks its pound of flesh regardless of the national difficulties, if Capital regards the sacrifice of human life as only another opportunity for personal gain, then both will fail of their high purposes. I realize that sacrifice must be made by all; but if we enter into this struggle facing industrial dissension, we will find out when the history of it is written that our enemies depended upon just such an occurrence to play a large part in the winning of the war for them.

May I have your indulgence while I read statements of Governor Whitman, of New York, in vetoing the Brown Bill, designated to suspend the operation of labor laws during the war. He said: "I believe that the enactment of the proposed legislation would militate against hearty co-operation on the part of all factors which are engaged in industrial pursuits, and co-operation is essential to adequate and necessary military preparation."

Also a letter from Attorney General Ritchie, of Maryland, to Congressman Zihlman, of the same state, which reads: "I am very glad to be able to advise you that the Maryland Preparedness and Survey Commission, at its meeting yesterday, voted not to recommend any law providing for any suspension of the labor or school attendance laws of the State, or of the Full Crew Law. The Governor was present at the meeting, and agrees with the Commission's views that such laws should not be passed."

Also Samuel Gompers' letter to John A. Phillips, Secretary of the Central Labor Union of Philadelphia:

"Washington, D. C., June 2, 1917.

Mr. John A. Phillips, Secretary,
Central Labor Union, 131 North 15th Street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir and Brother:

The Pennsylvania State Senate has passed the Full-Crew Law Repealer, and information comes to me that the House of Representatives will immediately take the matter up for action.

As an officer of your Central Body, I urge that you immediately call together you brother officers and frame a strong protest against the concurrence of the House in the repeal of the Full-Crew Law. Action must be taken at once to be effective. There is no national emergency that requires the repeal of the Full-Crew Law of Pennsylvania.

The Council of National Defense has adopted as a fundamental principle that should an emergency arise requiring any change in our present legislation, affecting labor conditions, that it would so advise the Governors of the various states. The Council of National Defense has urged upon the legislatures of the several states that before final adjournment they delegate to the Governors of their respective states the power to suspend or modify restrictions contained in their labor laws when such suspension or modification shall be requested by the Council of National Defense; and that such suspensions or modifications, when made, shall continue for a specified period and not longer than the duration of the war.

In addition to this statement, the Council of National Defense has emphatically declared:

"When economic or other emergencies arise requiring changes of standards, the same should be made only after such proposed changes have been investigated and approved by the Council of National Defense."

The Council of National Defense has not advised the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania nor the Legislature that an emergency has arisen whereby it becomes necessary to repeal the Full-Crew Law. Therefore, the State Senate has not only acted contrary to the desires and established policy of the Council of National Defense, but also in defiance of it.

Kindly register the protest of your organization at an early date in order that it may be effective.

With kind regards and best wishes, I remain,

Fraternally yours,

SAMUEL GOMPERS, President,

American Federation of Labor.

Mr. Gompers has associated with him on the National Defense Board such men as John D. Rockefeller, Jr. and Samuel A. Guggenheimer.

Also the President's answer to Governor Brumbaugh on his request for information as to what action he should take in regard to the suspension of labor laws. The President, in reply under date of June 4, said:

"I take pleasure in replying to your letter of June 1. I think it would be most unfortunate for any of the States to relax laws by which safeguards have been thrown about labor. I feel that there is no necessity for such action and that it would lead to a slackening of the energy of the nation rather than to an increase of it, besides being unfair to the laboring people themselves."

Now, gentlemen of the House, in the face of all this evidence, showing the attitude of the Governors of bordering States, the Labor Commission of the National Defense Board, and that of the head of our nation, who has had the benefit of British and French experience with labor problems incident to the war, and so long as he is in touch with the leading industrial and business men of the country through the Council of National Defense, and as he so clearly shows that labor laws enacted in time of peace should not be suspended, won't the efforts of state legislatures only tend to prove embarrassing?

I wonder how often we think what a wonderful institution a democracy really is. Less than a year ago in that great political battle we men who sit in this House were practically at each other's throats. To-day it is all forgotten as we march arm in arm to assert the rights and principles of our form of government. We have seen within the last two weeks young manhood, the very flower of our nation, to the number of ten millions, register to take up arms in defense of our country. We have seen three billions of dollars subscribed to finance the war, and best, and to mind the most wonderful of all, is the uniform action of the press in suppressing the news that a fleet had been dispatched to foreign shores, that Joffre arrived before we knew he had departed for the other side, that Pershing had arrived in England before we knew he had departed from our shores, and now we are in the heart of a campaign to raise one hundred millions for the Red Cross.

Every American seems to be working together, and may we not do anything here today that will make any class of labor distrustful of our government at this time. Let us forget labor interests, corporate interests and our own political interests, and think only of our own country's interests, and vote down this measure.

REMARKS OF MR. MANGAN.

Mr. MANGAN. Mr. Speaker, as I was deprived of the privilege of the floor by the call for the previous question, Crew Repealer spread upon the record.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objections and the remarks will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

The following are Mr. Mangan's remarks:

Mr. MANGAN. Mr. Speaker—Gentlemen of the House.

There is no justification for the reintroduction of this bill that calls for a suspension of its wise provisions now than there was two years ago. My vote was cast against it then and it will be now. This humanitarian measure ought not to be interfered with but left alone. Practical railroad employes, those that earn their livelihood in actual service fully understand and appreciate the protection that is thrown around them through this legislation and they say to you that having to face all the hazards and risks and take chances on life and limb, that you empowered to enact laws for their protection ought to do your utmost to legislate still further in place of attempting to retard their progress.

The best part of my life was spent in railroad service; and I know gentlemen what it means to work in the yards and also to conduct trains in road service. In the year of our Lord 1917 and in view of the gigantic struggle that is going on throughout the civilized universe the protection of the railroad man is a paramount issue.

Why should there be any suspension of this law? Has the employe any less duties to perform than that of a decade or more ago. Then the average trainload in freight service would be approximately 30 to 40 cars and now they with their modern railroad equipment haul up to 150 cars. That means additional labor and responsibility for the employe.

The President of the United States very forcibly expresses himself about this very question. There is no need of any change in the present law at this time. If you gentlemen have any regard for yourselves, your future and your constituents you will vote against this repealer. When you do so you will be doing your duty. You will reflect credit upon this law-making body and can return to your several stations content that you at least did your part to build up and protect the interests of the thousands of railroad employees in this great Commonwealth.

By casting your vote against this Full Crew bill repealer for that is what it means in its present form you immediately earn the respect of the masses of the working men and women everywhere. This State in common with all others should at all times and under all circumstances safeguard its citizens' interests, that of their families and that of the general public. We are not doing so, gentlemen, when we encourage such bills of this type.

Let me close by saying to you that my personal experience and actual labor strongly convinces me that we should not permit this bill to pass this House. Defeat it, gentlemen, consign it to a dark and lonesome place and then and only then will your full duty have been performed.

SENATE MESSAGE.

MOTION TO ADJOURN.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I move we adjourn.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1744.

Mr. SPROWLS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1744, File Folio 6727, entitled

An Act to amend an act approved the sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen entitled "An Act creating the Bureau of Vocational Education of the Department of Public Instruction creating the divisions of the same providing for the appointment of its officers and other employees by the Superintendent of Public Instruction defining the duties of the same and fixing the compensation of its employees" was defeated on Final Passage on Wednesday, June 20th, be reconsidered.

Mr. SHUNK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, I wish to briefly give my reasons for calling, up this bill. The question was not properly presented before the House when the vote was taken upon it last week. We find that under the Federal Act the State would be required to pay fifteen increase for salaries, an increase over last year, and another two thousand dollars for salaries of supervisors for vocational training. The salaries paid to supervisors of other states where vocational work has been started is as follows: Indiana $4250, Illinois $4000, Wisconsin $3500, New Jersey $2750 to $4500, New York $4000, Massachusetts $4500, Connecticut $3000. With this increase and the Federal aid the State will still have less to pay than last year. Last year the State paid an entire salary of two thousand dollars. This year with the increase the State will have but $1500 to pay, the other fifteen hundred dollars being paid by the Federal Government. This Federal Act has been passed since this Bureau was established in the State of Pennsylvania and experienced men of this sort are hard to get. In various sections of the country the work is being taken up. At present about eight states have started vocational work. Practically all of the remaining forty states have passed laws which will enable them to start the vocational work and take advantage of the Federal aid. This means that these forty states will draw upon the eight states for experienced men to start this work. The salaries are not more than work of a similar nature is being paid for in other vocations, and in fact not as much. In our State of Pennsylvania trained men for this work are required.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to reconsider the vote?

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz.:

SENATE.

TUESDAY, June 26, 1917.

The Senate met at 12 o'clock Noon.

The PRESIDENT, (Lieutenant-Governor Frank B. McClain) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer.

Almighty God, we thank Thee for the honor universally accorded to America as the first and most powerful champion of human rights and the world's democracy. Our first blow delivered against autocracy was made with America's declaration of war. Our second blow was when our best young men and young women offered their services freely to fill the various units in our army and navy. The oversubscriptions of our liberty bonds was another terrific blow and now again with over one hundred millions of dollars given by our people to the Red Cross fund another terrific punch has been delivered. Oh God, we pray Thee to help us to think about, sing about and pray and work with all the power we possess so that we may help those who are to-day on the firing line or soon will be there, so that the losses sustained by them will be as small as possible. Grant, Oh God, that we may be swift and powerful in our blows against this common enemy. We ask these blessings in our Saviour's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WATERS the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

RESOLUTION IN APPRECIATION OF THE CHARACTER AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF HONORABLE GEORGE WILKINS GUTHRIE.

Mr. McKEE offered resolution, which was twice read as follows:

Whereas, The Honorable George Wilkins Guthrie died in Tokio, Japan, March 8, 1917, and

Whereas, In his life he rendered to this his native State invaluable services both in positions of public trust and as a private citizen, therefore be it,

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the State of Pennsylvania desires to place upon its records its appreciation of the character and accomplishments of Mr. Guthrie, and to express to his family and friends its recognition of the loss the State has sustained in his death. He was a man of distinguished ability. He was prominent in the affairs of the Democratic Party for many years; a graduate of the Western University, he was made an LL. D. of the University of Pittsburgh in 1905. In 1876 he served as associate counsel for the Tilden Electors in Florida. In 1902 he was the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor of the State, and was later made a delegate to the Democratic National Convention. In 1906 he was elected Mayor of Pittsburgh, an office which he filled with distinction. In 1913, he was sent to Japan—being one of the first Ambassadors appointed by the President. He was highly honored by the Japanese and rendered signal service in strengthening the friendly relations between that country and the United States. The Japanese Cabinet paid him the compliment of sending his body to the United States on the warship Asuma with all the honors that could possibly be shown. Mr. Guthrie was active and prominent as a Mason. In the midst of his activities as a lawyer and business man he found time to serve as director of financial institutions to act as Trustee of the University of Pittsburgh and as manager of hospitals, and was an active member of the Chamber of Commerce of that city. He was a man of the highest integrity and his loss will be felt seriously in the many associations where his industry, ability and honesty played an important part.

Mr. McKEE. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39 be dispensed with in order that the resolution may be considered at this time.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution.

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

An act to amend the second section of an act approved the twenty-third day of April one thousand nine hundred and nine entitled "An Act making it a misdemeanor for any president vice-president cashier treasurer secretary teller bookkeeper clerk employe or agent of any mutual savings bank savings bank bank of discount and deposit trust company title insurance company surety company or safe deposit company incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth or of any private bank or unincorporated association receiving deposits of money or of any building and loan association incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth or authorized to do business therein his or their aiders and abettors to embezzle abstract or wilfully misapply any of the moneys funds or credit of such institution or to issue certificates of deposit draw any order or bill of exchange making any acceptance assign any note bond draft bill of exchange mortgage judgment or other instrument in writing without authority from the directors of such institution with intent to deceive or defraud or to make a false entry in the books reports or statements therein with like intent prescribing penalties and authorizing the Banking Commissioner to institute prosecutions."

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I am not clear about the meaning of this bill. If I am correctly informed, under this bill, you may indict one who robs a bank. The common law says you must indict one who is proven guilty of stealing a chicken. That is what I have been informed; if somebody can inform me differently I will withdraw my objection.

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. President, I desire to say for the information of the Senator from Blair, Mr. Snyder, that the law at present is that the Banking Commissioner is compelled to join in a prosecution of a defaulter or embezzler. That is not what this amendment's purpose is. It is discretionary with the Banking Commissioner whether or not he joins in that prosecution, but the District Attorney of the proper county may prosecute even if this amendment be passed as now.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, that is right.

And the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend Section 1, page 15, lines 8 and 9, by striking out the words "thence north through Northampton County to a point in Route One Hundred and Sixty-three near Lehigh Gap," and inserting in lieu thereof the words, "to a point on the dividing line between Northampton and Lehigh Counties thence to Slatington."

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I hope the amendment will not prevail. This bill has been under consideration here for the past few weeks, and every Senator has been given an opportunity to be heard on any proposed change in route, and to amend the bill at this time will probably mean to defeat its passage. Therefore, I hope that the amendment will not prevail. The bill likely will have to go to conference at any rate, and if the amendment is meritorious it can be put in at that time.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre, object to the amendment?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I do.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order.

No county through its trustees or otherwise shall receive its allotment of the States appropriation unless an equal amount has been provided by the county desiring the benefits under this act. All of the funds so appropriated to various counties which have not availed themselves of the provisions of this act remaining at the expiration of said time shall revert to a fund which shall be available for further division among the counties that have already availed themselves of the provisions of the act. The second allotment to any county shall not exceed twenty-five per centum of the first amount appropriated to the county and shall be available only when the county appropriates an equal amount as in the first instance.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

BILL RECOMMENDED.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1702 (House Bill No. 232), the bill just read, be recommended to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. SONES. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, certainly.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, what is the purpose of recommitting this bill?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, does the Senator not think that this is rather a late day to recommit the bill for the purpose of a hearing?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, it is possibly, but it is a very important bill and it is very important that it should have the proper consideration by the committee and if the people interested want a hearing I think it is proper that they should have the opportunity.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, is this the bill that the Senator spoke on in the House?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, no sir, I am not a member of the House.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, did the Senator speak upon any bill in the House?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, not during the session of the House. It was in Committee of the whole House. I was granted the privilege of the floor on a bill that affected Bucks County and Bucks County alone.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, I hope that this motion will not prevail to recommit this bill. I do not think it is for any good purpose whatever. This bill has been aired pretty well both in the House and in the Senate and if I do not miss my guess it was aired pretty well in the Senate this morning and if it is the purpose to defeat this meritorious bill I again appeal to the Senators that I hope it will not prevail.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Burke.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Burke, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I should like to ask the Senator which bill this is that he refers to, what the bill provides.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, this is the Workmen's Compensation Bill.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, in what respect does it amend the present compensation law?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, will the Senator wait until I get the bill? I cannot carry these features in my mind.

The PRESIDENT. Before the colloquy between the Senator from Allegheny and the Senator from Bucks proceeds further the Chair desires to inform both that the motion to recommit does not permit discussion of the merits of the bill and the Chair will hold both Senators strictly to such discussion as pertains to motions to recommit. Take fair warning, gentlemen.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BURKE and Mr. VARE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—17.

Baldwin,	DeWitt,	Haldeman,	McNichol,
Buckman,	Endsley,	Homsher,	Semmens,

Whereas, In his life he rendered to this his native State invaluable services both in positions of public trust and as a private citizen, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the State of Pennsylvania desires to place upon its records its appreciation of the character and accomplishments of Mr. Guthrie, and to express to his family and friends its recognition of the loss the State has sustained in his death. He was a man of distinguished ability. He was prominent in the affairs of the Democratic Party for many years; a graduate of the Western University, he was made an LL. D. of the University of Pittsburgh in 1905. In 1876 he served as associate counsel for the Tilden Electors in Florida. In 1902 he was the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor of the State, and was later made a delegate to the Democratic National Convention. In 1906 he was elected Mayor of Pittsburgh, an office which he filled with distinction. In 1913, he was sent to Japan—being one of the first Ambassadors appointed by the President. He was highly honored by the Japanese and rendered signal service in strengthening the friendly relations between that country and the United States. The Japanese Cabinet paid him the compliment of sending his body to the United States on the warship Asuma with all the honors that could possibly be shown. Mr. Guthrie was active and prominent as a Mason. In the midst of his activities as a lawyer and business man he found time to serve as director of financial institutions, to act as Trustee of the University of Pittsburgh and as manager of hospitals, and was an active member of the Chamber of Commerce of that city. He was a man of the highest integrity and his loss will be felt seriously in the many associations where his industry, ability and honesty played an important part.

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows, viz:

In the House of Representatives June 25, 1917.

Whereas There has been created under the laws of the District of Columbia a volunteer organization known as the American Purple Cross Association and

Whereas The said organization has offered to recruit, enlist and specially train units of expert embalmers to be enlisted in the medical department of the United States Army, and

Whereas, We have seventy-five thousand expert embalmers now engaged in the United States rendering the House of the Dead as free from the germs of contagious diseases as the meeting room of the College of Physicians, and

Whereas, This has now become an acknowledged fact and admitted by sanitary experts and men of high standing in the medical profession, then what is said of the house of the dead may be brought about on the field of battle, and

Whereas, It has offered to furnish at its own expense at least one ambulance for each unit so organized, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Secretary of War and the Surgeon General be requested to accept the said offer of the American Purple Cross Association, so far, at least, as it may apply to the troops enlisted in or furnished by the State of Pennsylvania in order that the health of the living may be conserved and that the bodies of our soldier dead eventually may be returned to their home burial grounds in a sanitary and recognizable condition, and the Secretary of the Commonwealth be requested to forward a copy of this resolution to the secretary of War of the United States and to the United States Senators and members of Congress from Pennsylvania.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 611.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 23, 1917.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 611, entitled "An Act to amend section one of an act approved the twenty-second day of May Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five entitled 'An Act authorizing the county commissioners of the several counties in this Commonwealth to appoint a county solicitor fix his compensation and prescribe the term and duties of the solicitor, authorizing the appointment of assistant county solicitors.'"

This bill amends section 1 of the act of May 22, 1895 (P. L. 101) by authorizing county commissioners to appoint in addition to the present county solicitor such additional solicitors, to be known as assistant county solicitors, as they may deem necessary and empowering the said commissioners to fix proper compensation for the same.

This is useless legislation. It opens the way for additional burdens of expense upon the people with no commensurate check thereon. Unquestionably when the business of a county requires the services of additional solicitors the county will upon due petition resolve the matter properly as is now done in some counties of the Commonwealth. It is better to have it so then to give legal permission to create endlessly additional positions and subject county commissioners to the importuning of the friends of those desiring place at the expense of the public.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. DETHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill, together with the vote be laid upon the table.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 999.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 23, 1917.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 999, entitled "An Act authorizing the Governor to fill vacancies in the office of county commissioners in certain counties."

This bill provides that in counties of 250,000 and under 500,000 inhabitants vacancies in the office of county commissioners shall be filled by the Governor. Vacancies on such boards are now by law filled by action of the surviving members and the court or courts of the county. This being uniform throughout the State it would be unwise to change in some counties to a new plan of filling such vacancies. The result would be confusion and the bill is clearly special legislation, in conflict with section 7, article III of the Constitution.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill, together with the veto be laid upon the table.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee on Conference on House Bill No. 1063, File Folio 9047.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the report

The report was read by the Clerk as follows:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1063.

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives: We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 1063, entitled "An Act to amend section five of an act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled 'An Act to fix the salaries of the judges of the

An Act to amend section five of an act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to fix the salaries of the judges of the Supreme Court the judges of the Superior Court the judges of the courts of common pleas and the judges of the orphans' courts"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section five of an act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws one hundred eighty-two) entitled "An Act to fix the salaries of the judges of the Supreme Court the judges of the Superior Court the judges of the Courts of Common Pleas and the judges of the Orphans' Courts" which reads as follows

"Section 5 The annual salary of each of the judges of the court of common pleas learned in the law in judicial districts having a population of two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) and less than five hundred thousand ($500,000) shall be eight thousand five hundred dollars ($8,500) in judicial districts having a population of ninety thousand (90,000) and less than two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) the annual salary of each of the judges of the courts of common pleas learned in the law shall be seven thousand dollars ($7,000) in judicial districts having a population of less than ninety thousand (90,000) the annual salary of each of the judges of the courts of common pleas learned in the law shall be six thousand dollars ($6,000) but each of the judges of the court of common pleas of Dauphin County shall receive two thousand dollars ($2,000) additional for trying the Commonwealth's civil cases" be amended to read as follows

Section 5 The annual salary of each of the judges of the courts of common pleas learned in the law in judicial districts having a population of two hundred thousand (200,000) and less than five hundred thousand (500,000) shall be eight thousand five hundred dollars ($8,500) in judicial districts having a population of one hundred forty thousand (140,000) and less than two hundred thousand (200,000) the annual salary of each of the judges of the court of common pleas learned in the law shall be eight thousand dollars ($8,000) in judicial districts having a population of ninety thousand (90,000) and less than one hundred forty thousand (140,000) the annual salary of each of the judges of the court of common pleas learned in the law shall be seven thousand dollars ($7,000) in judicial districts having a population of less than ninety thousand (90,000) the annual salary of each of the judges of the courts of common pleas learned in the law shall be six thousand dollars ($6,000) but each of the judges of the court of common pleas of Dauphin County shall receive four thousand dollars ($4,000) additional for trying the Commonwealth's civil cases

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee on Conference?

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, this bill is a bill that was defeated a week or two weeks ago. Perhaps you recall the time. This bill is to increase the salary of certain judges. Most of you are aware of the duties of judges. You know that these duties are important, but you also are aware that they are well cared for as a class. They have a very large salary compared with very many other people. Their salaries are not requested by them but it is largely through the efforts of their friends. The aspiration of the average lawyer is to be a judge, and you cannot blame him if he is as selfish as the others and for seeking a high salaried position. Let us analyze this proposition and see if it is simply a salary raiser for eight judges. It raises the salaries in the State twenty-eight thousand dollars the first year and, possibly, after the census of the 1920 to about forty-five thousand dollars a year. This is paid by all the people of the State out of the State Treasury. When the smaller counties come into theirs or pass into this population limit it will probably cost the State one hundred thousand dollars a year more than now. I believe that at a time like this when there is prime need for economy and prime need for revenue in the State that we in this House don't especially need to raise the salaries of the judges of Pennsylvania. I don't know of any class of people in this State today, in the attention which has been given them, which have been so well cared for in salary as the judges. There are many men from among other classes that have been called to leave their loved ones and their families and to go into war. We don't know where and they may perhaps not return. In this House we are not making any provisions for their wives and children and families. This House has not taken, at least so far, any step to provide for them at all. They belong to the citizens of Pennsylvania and they have claims on you and they perhaps need more attention from an economical standpoint than these judges. This is also an injustice to the judges of the small counties; they are to receive no raise at all. Only certain ones of our counties are to receive this raise. It is true that in Dauphin County the judges would finally receive twelve thousand dollars a year while Federal Judges in the District Courts receive only six thousand dollars a year, of which there are one hundred and three or four in the United States. Why should these judges in Pennsylvania be placed on a salary basis one and one-half or twice as great as that paid to the Federal Judges? The era in which we are living demands service and that service ought to be compensated, but if we recount the time for preparation, and the inactivity at times of some of the judges and compare them with the duties of many other men in other professions and occupations, we find that the energy and real services rendered to humanity by the judges is small in comparison. The time is coming and not far distant when the mechanic who has spent as much or more time in his preparation, and has given special care to his trade will receive a salary commensurate with his services. Perhaps the special classes will not then receive as much attention. I believe this bill is in the direction of favoring a special class. It takes further apart the rich and the poor; it takes further apart the man in high position and the man who is in a common-place position and I believe that it is true that any legislation that smacks of that is bad. We have two foolish classes of people in this country: One is the laboring man who believes that wealth should be distributed equally so that all could share in it; and the other class is the man in the corporations who is greedy and avaricious enough to take for himself all that he is able to secure. I believe this bill belongs to that class; they are taking all that they can and help themselves; this legislation does not bear a proper mark. It is very nice for some of you men interested in this bill to go back and say to your judges, "I am your friend; I have been instrumental in helping you to a thousand dollar raise in your salary each year," and I believe they are men who have no other interest in that bill, but that they are looking towards that time when they can go back and say, "It seems to me I deserve more patronage in your court." This it seems to me is too much the tendency of this bill. I believe you men from the country districts where the small judges attend to all the business and get but a small salary as compared with these districts should be against this bill, because your judges render more service than the judges in the larger counties where you have more on the bench. I think you should be decidedly against it. I want to say to you men, turn in and help to defeat this bill. I am doing what I can because I believe it is unjust and unfair and unreasonable, and it is unreasonable and unfair to put the burden of this extra salary on the people of this State. I see no motive in this but a selfish motive. No judge in Cambria County has come to me and asked me for aid, and I think it would have been out of place if he did, but a great many representative citizens have come to me and asked me not to support this bill. All the people that have come to me in Cambria County, representing the mining interests, the farmer and the mechanics have asked me to oppose this bill and do everything in my power to defeat it. I appeal to you on this basis to vote with me, all of you, to down this bill.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this is a very important matter that is before this House. It is important because there is a principle at stake. We should not pass this bill unless some very good reason is given why it should be enacted into a law. This is, I understand, the fifth time this matter has been before this House, and I have not yet heard any good reason for the provisions of this bill being enacted into a law. Why do we want to raise these particular judges' salaries at this time? I think we should all ask ourselves the questions. Why? What for? What is the reason for the increase in salary? I do not wish to take much of your time.

This has been discussed before, but I want to ask you one question: Why should the judges of the counties adjoining large counties receive a less salary than the judges of the large counties? If you have in your office ten clerks and the man in the office next door has but two clerks, is there any reason why you should pay each of the ten clerks more than your neighbor pays each of his two clerks? That is the proposition that is now before us, because if you have two or more judges in your county you ought to pay each of those more than in the adjoining county where they have but one judge. Now is there any reason of logic in that proposition? Why should the City of Philadelphia, where they have a number of judges, pay more to each of their judges than in some of the big rural counties where they have but one judge who presides over all of the courts? Can you give me any reason why we should do that? As I stated here some time ago on the floor of this House, I can show you many of the large rural counties where they have one judge and that judge is worked almost every day in the year, is worked very hard attending to the business of the court, yet because he happens to live in a small county you will only pay him $6,000 a year, and because another judge happens to preside in the courts of the City of Harrisburg, you're going to pay him $12,000 a year. Now is there any good reason why we ought to do that? We ought to pay our men according to the amount of work they do, that is what you do in every other line of business, why not in our courts? Don't you know what the judges of this Commonwealth in some places work from nine o'clock in the morning until about four o'clock in the afternoon, and they make a big salary, while in other portions of this Commonwealth the judges work night and day a good part of the time for one-half the salary. If there isn't any reason for passing this bill, gentlemen, don't do it. If you want to better take care of the business of the people of this Commonwealth, you can do so by giving them more judges. In a number of the big rural counties we are two years behind in our work for the simple reason that the judges are unable to do the work and keep up with the calendars of that court. Now we do now need more salaries but we need more judges. Justice delayed for a long time is justice denied. What the people want, and what the people demand is that they have sufficient judges, and sufficient courts to transact their business at least reasonably promptly. It has been demonstrated, and it is a fact that cannot be contradicted, that you do not get your business done better or faster by paying more money, because when a judge is doing all he can do he will not and cannot do more no matter what you pay him. We hear a lot of talk that is ridiculous about not being able to get good timber to sit on the benches. There is absolutely nothing in that. The man that earns a big salary or a big income from the practice of law very often does not want to be a judge, and if he did the people very often would not want that particular man. The man who earns a big income from the practice of law to-day is the man that represents some special line of business, and that is not the kind of a man you want to sit on your benches. The man that specializes in some particular kind of work very often may become an eminent and very able lawyer, but his activities are so narrowed, and having specialized in one particular line, he is not the kind of a man that we want to sit in our courts. Gentlemen, if you haven't any reason for enacting this law don't do it. I say to you that there is no reason under heaven why we should pay judges in these large counties more than the judges in the smaller counties where you have two or three men to divide the work. The work very often is easier and lighter than it is in a big county where they preside over all the courts. This law ought to be defeated, because there is no demand for it. The people are not worried about this matter, it is only the particular few that may be benefited by it. We would like to accommodate our judges and if we could do that by giving them more money without having to pay it, why of course we would want to do so. I like to see every man get all that he can, and make just as much money as he can, but I do not want him to get all that he can and more than he should have if the dear people of this State have to pay. Don't you know if the people have to pay it, the people are going to suffer in some other line? Don't you know that the branch across the hall is paring down our appropriations to-day for the very reason that we are not going to have sufficient revenues to pay the money that we are appropriating. If we add a large sum of money by the passage of this bill, some of your own pet appropriation measures will have to be sliced a little more. We have talked about revenue and we have voted about revenue, but the bills providing for revenue have never gotten through and they are not going to get through at this session of the General Assembly. The only way we can pay higher salaries is to cut it off something that we have already appropriated. If there was any good reason for raising the salaries of these men, then I would say raise it, but there is no good reason and we are going to have to suffer. Gentlemen, think twice before you vote for this bill, and before you vote for it require somebody to get up in this House and show us why. We have not been told why there should be any raise and you are not going to be shown why there should be a raise, for the simple and only reason that there is no reason why we should do it. I ask you to vote against this bill, gentlemen, in the interest of fair play, and in the interest of a principle that is at stake in this matter.

Mr. BLACK. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the newspapers, in characterizing this measure that is now before the House, have said that it is a measure that corresponds to the story of the cat with the nine different lives. It is a bill that gives to the judges of Dauphin County two thousand dollars more for trying State cases, making that four thousand dollars they will get, and the next census will give them one thousand dollars more. I see in looking at Smull's Hand Book that in the census of 1900 Dauphin County increased in population eighteen thousand. In the next census of 1910 the population increased twenty-two thousand. Now the population of Dauphin County at the present time is one hundred and thirty-six thousand, and there is no reason to believe that it will not be one hundred and sixty thousand when the next census is taken. In Article five, section twenty-two of the Constitution, it says: "In every county wherein the population shall exceed one hundred and fifty thousand the General Assembly shall, and in any other county may, establish a separate Orphans' Court." At the same time that the Judges of Dauphin County will be receiving one thousand dollars more, they will do less work, through the establishment of an Orphans' Court in this county. I trust, therefore, that the members will vote down this Conference Report.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I have made it a rule this session, and made it a rule last session, not to inject myself into a proposition that did not affect Philadelphia County. However, this session I am going to make an exception to that rule, and speak in favor of this bill. My excuse for making the exception is that so many of you gentlemen have injected yourselves into Philadelphia propositions that it won't be very much amiss for me to inject myself into this country proposition. Mr. Speaker, as I view this proposition from the standpoint of a practicing lawyer, it seems to me that a judge should be put on the highest pinnacle that it is possible to be put on by a human being. The best way to put a judge on a high plane is to keep that judge away from temptation. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it has been well said that no work of any kind or of any human being on this earth more closely resembles the work of the deity than does the work of a judge. A judge on the bench decides justice between people, he decides between right and wrong. Such a judge should almost live the life of a celestial. My ideal judge is one who is not compelled to go down into the depths of society, who is not compelled to go among the lowest classes of people to seek either his election, re-election or increase in salary. It seems to me that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania can and should be able to support the judges in fine and first-class style. I am told that the difference in this case, if we pass this bill, means but twenty-eight thousand dollars all over the State. If I am mistaken, I will be glad to have some one correct me, but it seems to me that we ought to pass this bill and vote for it unanimously.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I hope the members will vote against the adoption of this report. I do not see any reason why we should vote for it. I would like to ask from some one some good reason why we should. If you are fair and just in the appropriation of this salary, then we have made a serious mistake in this session. The poor little fellow who gets fifteen hundred or two thousand or twenty-five hundred or three thousand or thirty-five hundred or four thousand dollars, ought to have received some attention. They perhaps need it, but the man at seven thousand dollars a year, it seems to me that he is pretty well cared for. How about you? It seems that you who are here in the important role of making laws have been considered to be worth but fifteen hundred dollars, and there have been some intimations in the newspapers that you are not worth that. Perhaps this is unfair to you, if on the other hand we consider that these fellows at seven thousand dollars a year are not fairly treated. I believe, too, that the court ought to be on a very high plane, and I believe the highest class of lawyers in this State consider the court the highest position in the giving of the people. I believe every lawyer looks toward it as the highest position of honor that he may attain, and if we are going to make it merely a place of power and lucre, and say the man must receive so many dollars for working, you are going to take away the dignity and honor and respect due it from the common people. I believe that the common people will view it with distrust and contempt and fear as something apart from them, rather than something that will render service to them. The court ought to be the friend of the common people, of all people, the rich and poor alike, and in making it merely a position for salary, we are taking it out of the high position in which we ought to place it. Dauphin County has had a certain portion of its work taken away from it, and yet according to the increase in population, in 1920 the judges of that county would be receiving twelve thousand dollars a year. I cannot conceive that you men believe that that salary is fair, when taken in comparison with the men in other districts and compared with the Federal judges with their thirty-two counties to look after six thousand dollars a year. You cannot tell me that a man who takes a Federal judgeship takes it for so much money a year. He takes it for the honor and respect that is due that position. I would like to have you gentlemen vote this down. I believe it is worthy of that action, in so much as I have heard in the appeals no good reason for it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. BLACK. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.
